CABINET AT ODDS ON M'SWINEY

British Officials in Bitter Quarrel — Lloyd George Eager to Shift King Warned to Keep Hands Off — Unionists Against Clemency

LONDON, Sept. 10.—It is reported that the cabinet is at odds over the MacSwiney case and that Premier Lloyd George is facing one of the most embarrassing dilemmas of his stormy political career.

mayor of Cork, despite the "firmness" of some of his previous statements on the subject but he is threatened with a revolt in the cabinet if the prisoner is released.

Quarrel is Bitter

The bitterness between the two factions of the ministry over the MacSwiney affair has reached such a point that sensational developments may be expected.

The premier is always for compromise when confronted by any serious obstacle and the tremendous sentiment in favor of the release of the lord mayor has broken down his former determination to let the prisoner carry out his hunger strike to the end.

On the other hand, Sir Hamer Greenwood and other officials of the government in Ireland have threatened to resign if the lord mayor should be released. Then there is the powerful element led by Sir Edward Carson and by Bonar Law, both of whom are represented as being uncompromising in their stand against letting MacSwiney go free.

So strong, in fact, is the opposition in the ministry to any concession in the case that it is reported that the king has been virtually snubbed and rebuffed for expressing a wish that clemency should be shown the prisoner. One report has it that the king was told that even if he should recommend the release of the lord mayor his wishes would be ignored.

Sec. Colby Acts

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The Irish Progressive league announced here yesterday that Secretary of State Colby had cabled the American consul at Cork for a full report on Patrick Joseph Murphy, hunger strike prisoner in jail there, who is said by the league to be a citizen of the United States.

Murphy was born in Lynn, Mass., in 1891, officials of the league asserted, adding that they had appealed to President Wilson in his behalf. Secretary Colby's cable was said to have been despatched today as a result of this appeal.

A brother of Murphy informed the league of Murphy's American citizenship, it was stated, with the assertion that Murphy so far had been convicted of no crime but was awaiting trial.

Griffith Repudiates Charge

DUBLIN, Sept. 10.—Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein, in a public statement yesterday, repudiates the suggestion of Premier Lloyd George that the charge against Terence MacSwiney related to murder, and cites the actual findings of the court martial.

His denounces as infamous the suggestion that the previous lord mayor (MacCurran) was killed by his friends and challenges the premier to accept the proposal of an impartial tribunal at which evidence convicting government officials of the MacCurran murder would be produced.

Numerous Dublin houses, including the Curtis Printing Works, were raided by the military yesterday. Copies of portraits of MacSwiney and Archbishop Mannix were removed. Five arrests were made, including Councilor McLoughlin, a prominent member of the corporation.

MacSwiney's Career

Terence J. MacSwiney, the hunger-striking lord mayor of Cork, is the second surviving son of the late John MacSwiney of Kings street, Cork, who died at Melbourne, Australia.

He is the nephew of the late Terence MacSwiney of Patrick street, Cork, and of the late Eugene MacSwiney of Sydney, Australia.

He belongs to one of the oldest Irish families—the MacSwiney family of Crookstown, County Cork.

The father, John, the aunts and the uncles—Terence, Paul, Eugene and Peter—of the present lord mayor of Cork, were all born within a stone's throw of the ancestral castle upon the portion of their land still left to them. Peter and Paul died in the city of Cork, unmarried. One of the sons of Eugene, Captain Terence MacSwiney, distinguished himself by his bravery in France during the late war, winning many honors. He led Australian troops in the Gallipoli campaign and was so severely wounded that his leg had to be amputated. Before returning to Sydney he visited the family in Cork, and became a special friend of his first cousin and namesake, the present lord mayor.

For many years Lord Bandon had had in his possession the territory on which the ancestral castle stands, but vigilant eyes kept watch over the interests of the absent owners.

Many were the stories told to the rising generation of MacSwineys about grandparents, great-aunts and great-uncles and forebears, lost in the city life they might lose the knowledge of their family history and no longer realize who they were.

So well was the desired end accomplished that the sons were even more filled with the family spirit than their discouraged fathers, and one of the dreams of the young Terence, now suffering in Brixton prison, was to buy back from Lord Bandon at least the portion of the soil on which the ruin of his ancestral castle stood. It is interesting to note that the general elections of 1918, by electing him a member of parliament for County Cork, put his ancestral home to some extent under his protection.

Even as a boy he was remarkable for his patriotic spirit.

He received his education at the Christian Brothers' schools, Cork, where he began the study of the Irish language. He is a graduate of Dublin university. He is both a poet and dramatist. He is married and has one baby girl. His little girl has been taught only Irish. "Later she will learn English as an acquired tongue," the lord mayor has said.

Mrs. Terence MacSwiney attended summer school courses and remained some months in Ballingearry, the great centre of revival of the ancient tongue, that she might be able to teach her little one the true mother tongue.

It is interesting to learn that the father of Lord Mayor MacSwiney, the late John MacSwiney, went in his youth to Italy to join the army in defence of the pope, and that the MacSwiney family motto is "Semper Fidelis," "Ever Faithful."

CAUSE OF DEATH

Accident Board Rules Death from Tuberculosis Caused by Injury Within Scope of Law

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Sept. 10.—Death caused by pulmonary tuberculosis, produced by an injury received in the course of employment, is within the scope of the workmen's compensation law, according to a decision just handed down by the Industrial accident board, which has awarded $4000 in weekly payments, and an immediate payment of $100, to the widow of a Boston teamster.

According to the testimony before the board, the employee, Patrick Glennon of Roxbury, was a driver for Frank Jones Brewing company. The accident occurred on April 26, 1918. The team in which Glennon was sitting was struck by an automobile truck and he was thrown out, receiving severe internal injuries.

Although Glennon weighed 190 pounds, the injury developed a condition of tuberculosis, from which he died on Nov. 11 of the same year. Efforts of the insurance company which carried the liability of the brewing company under the workmen's compensation law to show that the cause of death was not tuberculosis, but cancer or cirrhosis of the liver, proved unavailing, although Dr. Timothy Leary, medical examiner for Suffolk county, was called in as an expert by the company, and testified that in his opinion death could not have been produced by tuberculosis in Glennon's case.

Dr. Cadis Philipps, the impartial physician, employed by the board, gave it as his opinion that tuberculosis due to the injury which the employee received was the cause of death, and Frank J. Donahue, the board member who sat in the case, so ruled.

Wall Paper Talks

The use of Cut Out borders has gradually grown until now nearly every paper we sell has a cut out border going with it. Practically the only exception to this is tapestry papers. Because they are generally so well covered with design a border does not show up on them.

On a plain paper such as a grass cloth or an oatmeal, a cut-out border is the making of a room from a decorative point of view. On a chamber paper, either a stripe or an all-over effect, the cut-out border adds immeasurably to the room.

We have a very nice way of showing our cut out borders and are always glad to help you in your choice.

EMPLOYEES HAVE VOICE IN STORE MANAGEMENT

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The republican form of government for employees, introduced in certain industrial plants throughout the country, has been adopted by a large New York department store.

Employees of this store, numbering 1,700, have a voice in virtually all matters affecting their relations with the management, through elective bodies modeled after bicameral system of representation prevailing in the government of the United States.

The employee elect members of their house of representatives and senate directly, while the executive department, consisting of a cabinet of five, is named by the corporation officials. The judicial functions are carried out by a joint justice committee from the legislative bodies. All branches of the store government derive their powers from a constitution somewhat similar to the constitution of the nation.

The fixing of wage scales and working conditions are included in the broad powers of the house and senate, while the justice committee may bring about the expulsion of an employee from the concern, or if they find a worker has been unjustly discharged, they can have him reinstated. The acts of the legislature may be vetoed by the cabinet, but this has not been necessary as yet, it was said by officials of the concern.

Improvement of the service rendered by the store to its customers is the aim of much of the legislation enacted by the workers, but the bettering of the morale of the force of employees also brings many bills to the floor of the house and senate, which convene one day each week.

Recently a bill providing for the installation of a motion picture machine was passed and the management is to spend $5,000 a year in carrying out its provisions. Another act provided for the location and installation of new individual lockers in the basement where employees might hang their coats and hats.

Passing much of the responsibility for the conduct of the institution onto the shoulders of the employees has brought about many improvements, most of them originating in suggestions which are made to the suggestion committee of the house and senate at the rate of more than 50 a week. Employees are paid cash prizes for all suggestions put into use and no suggestion is rejected until an investigation has been made by the committee.

An increase in the earning power of each employee is one of the purposes of the new store government and economy dividends are paid on the saving in the percentage of operating expense. A merit system has been inaugurated by the workers, grades for each employee being made out monthly on a basis of their ability, experience and co-operative work. An average grade is reached by balancing those turned in for all workers by their direct superiors—floor managers, buyers, assistant buyers and department heads. Salaries go up along with the ratings and promotions also are based on them.

The house of representatives membership is elected directly by all of the workers except department heads and their assistants. These two groups elect the senators of whom there are 16 compared with 16 representatives. Half the membership of each body changes semi-annually, the electors holding office one year. The suggestion committee from each body include those on justice, co-operation, economy and so on.

As soon as this industrial democracy plan has gone beyond its infancy, its originators hope to take the public into the organization in some way. Already observance of the wishes of customers by employees has resulted in bills directed toward making shopping more pleasant and suggestions for other changes are expected to come from outside the store after the government grows beyond the embryonic stage.

ASKS CLEMENCY FOR MacSWINEY

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—The following cablegram was sent yesterday to the British prime minister:

David Lloyd George, Downing Street, London, England:

The Boston Post, a newspaper published in Boston with the largest morning circulation in America, very respectfully urges you to procure pardons for Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, and other political prisoners now on desperate hunger strikes in jails of Ireland and England.

Even if such act of clemency were accompanied by the positive announcement that no further pardons would be granted under like circumstances, it would nevertheless be like pouring oil on angry waters.

The MacSwiney case in particular has attracted world-wide attention, and aroused the sympathy of millions who, though they may know little of the merits of the case, recognize that here is a man deliberately sacrificing his life for an ideal.

The interest in this matter in Boston, and the United States generally, is intense, and the policy of clemency on the part of your government would meet with widespread approval.

EDWIN A. GROZIER,
Editor Boston Post.

BIG WELCOME FOR DE VALERA IN HUB

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—Thousands of local Irishmen and women of Irish descent will turn out tomorrow and Sunday to welcome and pay honor to Eamonn De Valera, president of the Irish republic, and Mrs. De Valera. Present conditions in Ireland have aroused to the highest possible pitch the national feeling, and the demonstration is expected to surpass that given the president a year ago last June.

President and Mrs. DeValera will be met at the South station at 8 o'clock on their arrival from New York, and immediately escorted to the Coppley Plaza. On Sunday there is to be a monster mass meeting in Mechanics' building, and to accommodate the hordes who hope to hear President De Valera an overflow meeting will be held outside the building, and still another on the common, if the plans of the committee in charge are carried out.

A striking feature of the reception, the big parade, and in fact throughout the three days' stay of the De Valeras in Boston, will be the guard of honor of world war veterans, who will never leave the side of the president.

CUMMINGS URGES LEAGUE

Get Away From Doctrine of Isolation and Get Into League With All Force and Will.

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 10.—In an address here yesterday, Homer S. Cummings, former chairman of the democratic national committee and chairman of the San Francisco convention, said that the spirit that controls America today is the spirit that will dominate the human race but to insure that this country will set the example for other nations, we must get away from the spirit of partisanship and break away from the doctrine of isolation and get into the world affairs by going into the League of Nations with all our force and will.

The League of Nations, he said, was the promise born of the war that the world would never again be embroiled in battle array.

BIG CHELSEA RAID

Moonshine Whiskey and Sugar Mash Valued at $5000 Seized by Dry Agents

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—Federal prohibition agents and the Chelsea police early last evening raided the storehouse of White Brothers, wholesale sugar dealers, at 130 Spruce street, Chelsea, and seized moonshine whiskey and sugar mash valued at $5000. It was the largest raid ever made in Chelsea.

The officers arrested Michael Chenczuk, 30 years old, of 78 Fifth street, Chelsea, a laborer, who was charged with operating the still. Two 40-gallon stills were seized by the officers. The moonshine taken was said to be approximately 300 gallons, and there were also 610 gallons of mash.

The Greeks used to decorate the graves of their women with purple iris.

UNARMED POSSE GETS YEGGMAN

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 10.—"Two o'clock in the morning courage" had a good demonstration in North Dartmouth early today, when a hastily organized posse of milk wagon drivers and farmers cornered a yeggman who was preparing to blow the safe in the postoffice, located in Jacobson Brothers' store.

With the exception of a little 22-calibre revolver, the attacking party had only sticks for weapons, but they camouflaged the situation by calling to each other, such commands as "Drop him when he comes out the door," the effect being that the yeggman surrendered to Jacob and Thurston Jacobson, when they entered by a side door. The prisoner, who gave his name as Charles E. Drew, swore bitterly when he saw the sticks that had been masquerading as guns.

A complete set of safe-blowing tools was found in the store, together with a tube of nitro-glycerine paste and some gunpowder.

After his arrest it was learned that Drew was recently released from the Atlanta federal penitentiary where he served a 10-year term for robbing postoffices in Connecticut. Drew admitted to Raymond Chase, finger print expert of the New Bedford police, that he had been a trusty there and had served his full time. This admission came during the operation of obtaining his finger prints which have been sent to Boston for further identification.

ORRILE OWL TAKES A NAP

Everything was quiet in the Meadow Grove school as Mr. Scribble Scratch, the fairy schoolmaster, gave out the sums.

This was the first problem: "If Billy had five mosquito bites on each of his legs, how many bites did he have?"

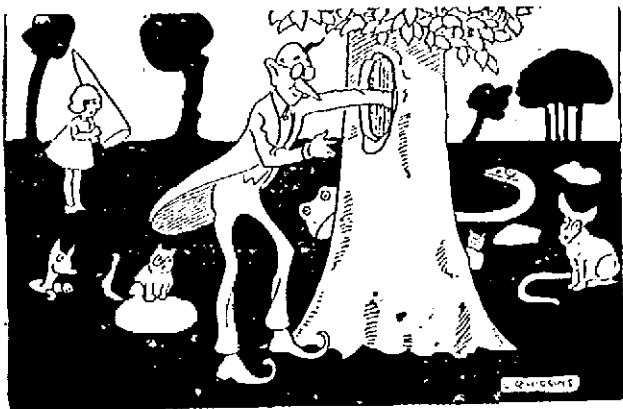

Chippy Chippinuk held up his hand. "Please, sir," said he, "is Billy a little boy, or a goat, or a dandy-long-legs, or a thousand-legged?"

Mr. Scribble Scratch looked over mill. And you know how it is when you see anybody yawn, or hear anybody snore, you feel sleepy at once yourself.

Well, immediately the whole school instead of counting out how many bites Billy had, began to snuffle and yawn and stretch so, that Scribble Scratch got cross.

"Nancy," called he, "have you got that dunce-cap made yet? I think we'll need several more before long, too."

"HAI" SAID THE SCHOOLMASTER, "I'LL JUST REACH IN AND GIVE HIM A POKIE."

his glasses. "What do mosquitoes bite mostly?" he asked.

Chippy thought a moment. "Little boys in their bare feet, I guess," he answered.

"Right!" said Scribble Scratch and went on with the next question, while everybody counted on his fingers and toes what two times five would make.

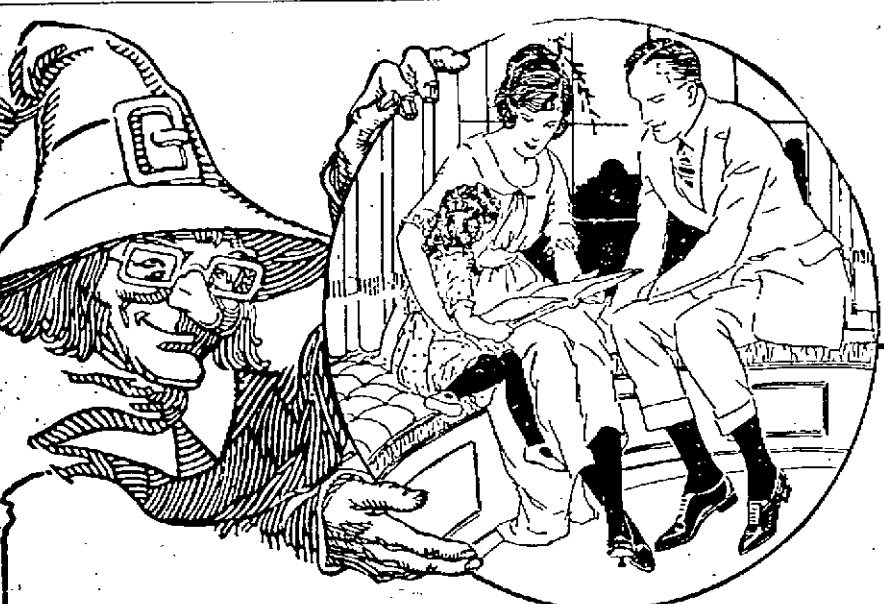

Now while they were all thinking hard, Orrile Owl in his hole in the tree suddenly began to snore like everything. "B-z-z-z-z! H-m-m-m! B-z-z-z-z!" he went like a sing-song old saw-

Pencil got busy then, and the fairy-man tiptoed over to the hole in the tree where Orrile Owl was supposed to sit.

"HAI" said the little schoolmaster softly, "I'll just reach in and give him a pokie and wake him up. He can't come to my school and be so lazy. I won't have it at all. I'll send Nick with a note to his father if he doesn't do better."

Suddenly he gave a yell. I wonder what happened.

MUST HAVE LEAGUE

Owe It to Women of World, Says Mrs. Philip N. Moore of National Council of Women

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—That the women of America owe to the women of the rest of the world their confirming vote on the League of Nations, is the opinion of Mrs. Philip North Moore, president of the delegation of the National Council of Women. She is now in Christiania, Sweden, for the international women's conference in session there at which 26 nations are represented. A resolution was adopted last March pledging the support of the American women to the league and it will be presented to the conference.

"It has twice been the unanimous decision of our council," said Mrs. Moore, in a recent interview with the New York Times, "that we must have the League of Nations, either as signed at Versailles, or modified by reservations that protect our constitutional rights. And now Senator Harding has declared definitely against the league."

Unless he modifies that attitude and declares himself ready to accept the league principle, it will be impossible for 16,000,000 women represented in the National council, pledged as they are to the league, to support him.

"He will have to alter his stand if he wishes to secure the women's vote, and before taking their decision which candidate to support, all American women will have to watch carefully their attitude on this most vital of all questions."

"There are no sufficient reasons," she continued, "why the present covenant should not be adopted, with reservations making the position of America clear and there are a great many reasons why other countries would not agree to dispense with the covenant in order to accept Mr. Harding's new league."

"The present structure has been built up with too much patient care to permit its being readily torn down to make way for some entirely new edifice which has as yet nobody's complete approval."

Members of the delegation have, while en route to Christiania, made a minute and complete study of opinion with regard to league matters in the countries through which they have passed. Before their return to America they will draft a formal report of these studies, and on that report they believe will be based the decisions of thousands of women not already affiliated with any political body.

William E. Gladstone, the English statesman, had a hobby of chopping down trees.

MERCHANT MARINE OFFICERS

13,000 Have Been Graduated from Shipping Board's Training Schools in Three Years

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—More than 13,000 merchant marine officers have been graduated from the shipping board's training schools since their establishment three years ago and 72 per cent of the graduates have been licensed for service at sea on records of the board's recruiting service show.

Officers for the government owned merchant marine are trained at Cargo School, Va., San Francisco and Seattle. Four wooden ships operate on the Atlantic coast as combination training ships and cargo carriers. Each has a capacity of 200 apprentices and 1200 tons of cargo.

On the Pacific coast one wooden ship carrying 1500 tons of cargo and 112 apprentices and a new 1500-ton steel vessel with space for 146 apprentices operate on the triangular run between Seattle, the Hawaiian Islands and San Francisco.

Extension and development of its system of training Americans to command the craft of the merchant marine is planned by the shipping board. It is suggested that shore station be maintained where men from all sections of the country can be assembled and given instruction in seamanship, boat drill and other preliminary work.

The men would then be sent to sea in modern steel freight ships which would insure a voyage out and return in about 60 days, four vessels on the Atlantic and two on the Pacific.

Concurrently with the sea training the recruiting service plans the establishment at colleges and universities near the principal American ports of maritime commerce courses which would include accounting, business correspondence, business principles, economics, elements of statistics, markets, transportation, principles of foreign trade, exports and imports, languages, maritime law, maritime rates, business administration, business law, admiralty law, advertising, ship operation and other basic subjects.

The year would be divided into four three-month periods, the first one or two quarters to be spent in college work and the subsequent quarters in practical experience, complete supervision in the offices of steamship companies and on board ships. The men would be paid for their services while employed in offices and on vessels and thus would be able to obtain their education without financial cost to them.

It would be sought to so arrange the course as to extend over a period of four years with a degree upon completion. Shipping board officials believe this would build up and leave many other well trained men in all branches of maritime commerce.

It is estimated that the United States originally possessed 550,000,000 acres of timberland, of which only about 545,000,000 acres remain.

HOME RULE COMMITTEE

Street Railway Matters Discussed at Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon—Minutes Reported Received

Four members of the home rule committee held a meeting in the mayor's reception room at city hall late yesterday afternoon, but no business of any importance was transacted. In the absence of Chairman Bourke, Mr. Sullivan presided and the minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary J. R. Curtin.

The resignation of Mrs. Edward N. Burke, who represents the Middlesex Women's club on the committee, was received and referred to the mayor, who has the power of appointment. The report of the financial condition of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. for the month of May and June was received from the chairman of the board of trustees. The report showed a deficit for the month of May of $11,820.66 and for July, $1,053.37, making a total deficit for the two months of $12,874.03. The report was placed on file.

Commenting upon the report Manager Thomas Lee of the local division said he believed the months of July and August will show better because of the advent of the one-man cars. He said the gross earnings were greater because of heavier riding, especially on the holidays. The gross receipts in August will not be so large as in July, he continued, but the showing will be good. He informed the members of the committee that the number of one-man cars in Lowell has been increased to 19 and this means a big saving in wages and power. Next Sunday the company will put on four more, making a total of 23.

Mr. Lee said one of the new cars will be operated on the Lawrence street line and within a short time that route will be covered by three one-man cars instead of two two-man cars and accordingly, the expense will be reduced about 25 per cent.

Relative to the sale of tickets on the local cars, Manager Lee said each was given a supply of 10 or 20 tickets and there is no reason why a conductor should run out of tickets for the men on every trip. He said the company would appreciate any report from patrons in instances where conductors have refused to sell tickets, and such matters would be looked into promptly. The meeting adjourned at 4.55 o'clock.

MAJ. GEN. HARRIS NAMED

Chicago Man Elected Commander-in-Chief of Military Order of the World War Last Night

DETROIT, Sept. 10.—Major General George H. Harris of Chicago, was elected commander-in-chief of the Military Order of the World War at the closing session of the organization's first meeting here last night. Col. W. W. Stover of Boston, was elected a department commander.

The convention adopted resolutions pledging the membership to fight Bolshevism. Another resolution asked congress to amend the army regulations so as to place emergency officers on a par with regular army officers in the matter of retirement for disability.

The sign of a reliable dealer and the world's best Gasoline

Every motor highway and byway throughout picturesque New England and New York is a part of the long "Socony Trail".

Old Orchard Home, Concord, Mass., where Louisa M. Alcott wrote "Little Women" in 1867.

THE Socony sign of supreme motoring service is a common sight in rural Vermont and from Old Town, Maine to Chautauqua County, New York.

Automobile tourists have come to depend upon it. They have found it in out-of-the-way places—on many trips it was "a friend in need". And many large gasoline users in the cities know what Socony service means—they too have come to depend upon it. The uniform qualities of Socony gasoline have made it the logical fuel for every motor transportation requirement.

Socony isn't merely one of many gasolines. It represents fifty years of refining experience, and is made by the most improved methods known to the industry. It is truly the standard of quality gasoline.

Socony gasoline, with the proper carburetor adjustment, insures quick starting, clean combustion, low carbonization and full mileage from every gallon. Regular Socony users enjoy these advantages every day the year round, for Socony service enables them to fill up everywhere.

PRODUCE "CRAZY" IN OLD KENTUCKY

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Kentucky is a wonderful state. Just read what's going on:

Lebanon: Horace Gibbons, Bradfordville farmer, has apples in his orchard large as grapefruits.

Campbellsville: D. A. Melton of Spurlington is exhibiting apples weighing 28 ounces.

Middlesboro: Rev. J. J. Evans has an Irish potato vine which is seven feet six inches long.

Marion: Lee Snawder, tax commissioner, is distributing choice apples among his friends. Each bag contains 12 apples of different varieties with average weight of one pound each.

Lancaster: J. F. Holtzclaw is the champion tomato raiser. He has one weighing two and one-half pounds.

Livingston: Nick Gardner gathered from a young tree in his yard, a peach weighing 10½ ounces. It was perfect.

Hartford: At Dr. Sam Bird's home a hard-boiled egg revealed a second perfect egg on the inside.

Winchester: John Martin caught a 52-pound catfish on an ordinary hook and landed it after a three hours' struggle.

Flemingsburg: On an acre and a half of ground, Henry A. Power raised potatoes which he sold for $781, and still has enough for his family.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

Defeated Candidate Files Return—Bought "Face Creme" and Open-Work Hose for Women

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Here are some of the campaign expenses of G. H. Force, a defeated Missouri congressional aspirant, which he listed under oath in his expense account filed recently with W. Tyler Page, clerk of the house of representatives:

"Aug. 1—Postage for 25 letters to influential men in my district, telling that I was trusting to the kindness of the people and the mercy of God to elect me (both failed)—50 cents.

"Aug. 2—For professional services of a tonsorial artist in shaping up the sandy whiskers of an influential son of Erin—35 cents.

"Aug. 3—One jar 'face creme' to fascinating blonde for passing out my cards—35 cents.

"Aug. 3—Another jar of 'face creme' to charming brunette for passing out more of my cards—35 cents.

"Aug. 2—For her work and influence among her many friends and admirers, a pair of open-work hose for a plump widow; the less said the better. Special bill.

"July 27—For street carfare to summer garden where Tony Steuver and congressional committee held election one night a week previous to legal primary and nominated my opponent for congress in the 10th district—15 cents."

COAL SHORTAGE IN PORTUGAL

LISBON, Sept. 10.—A coal shortage is being keenly felt in Portugal owing to the prohibition of coal exportation from England and the absence of any good coal producing districts in this country.

All coal for industries was imported chiefly from Cardiff and Newcastle and since that has ceased and orders placed in the United States have been cancelled, the situation threatens to become serious and people are looking forward with alarm to the coming winter. Abnormal conditions exist as a result, all restaurants, cafes and places of amusement must close promptly at midnight and external illuminations are prohibited.

There is but little coal produced in Portugal, which has been entirely dependent on imported coal. For domestic purposes charcoal is chiefly used all over the country in small earthenware stoves specially made for its use. Now, however, even that has disappeared as the price of fuel rose to such an extent that the government was obliged to enforce fixed prices. In consequence, although there is plenty of charcoal, farmers are not sending it to the market, hoping to obtain over increasing prices for wood.

In the mean time all Portugal is suffering from utter absence of coal and people are obliged to buy wood when it is obtainable. Middleclass and poor people burn sawdust in small iron stoves expressly invented during the war for that purpose and also use impervious boxes lined with straw, that finish cooking the food, after it is removed, boiling, from the stove. Many families unable to cook at home are having their meals at the restaurant.

SHORTAGE OF HOUSES

Federal and Municipal Governments Act to Bring Relief in Rio de Janeiro

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 10.—Both federal and municipal governments are about to take action to relieve the shortage of houses here.

In the chamber of deputies a bill has been introduced providing for a special bond issue of $50,000,000 for the construction of houses for working families. In the municipal council a measure was presented providing that all workers' houses built in the next two years be free from the usual municipal taxes.

The federal bill proposes the construction, under the municipal administration, of 20,000 houses in various districts of the capital wherever nationally or municipally owned ground is available. It is intended that the houses shall be sold to heads of working families, payment being spread over a period of 25 years. In addition, the bill provides for the construction of two huge apartment houses, for families and for bachelors respectively, with common kitchens and other communal installations, the rent being placed at a very low figure.

Blackingtons Worsted

of North Adams, Mass.

These goods bought last week direct from the commission house of Rubin & Cooper, 65 Chauncey street, Boston, lower in price than anything I have seen in four years, lower in price than any buyer of woollens can purchase them a month from today. No other tailor or clothier in New England today can talk about an all wool worsted suiting under $45 and I contend these fabrics compare very favorably for quality of merchandise with the suit around $50 to $55. For a limited time I offer you three styles—a beautiful shade of dark green, a very conservative shade of fancy brown and a wonderful shade of dark blue.

LOWELL HORSES WIN AT PLATTSBURGH

Three Lowell horses figured in the races at Plattsburgh, N. Y., yesterday. Wotton's Silver King not second money in the 212 pace for a purse of $2000. Tom Braden's Little Prince was also in this race, but was not at his best. The track was very heavy after two days' rain and the little fellow has been doing so much racing and train-traveling that he was a little bit tired.

The third Lowell horse participating in the race events was Helen, owned by Wotton's horses. Helen took third money in the 215 trot, another $2000 purse.

The summary:
212 PACE, PURSE $2000
Northern Direct, b. g. (Thos. Northern Man (Fittman)) 1 1
Silver King, b. g. (Doro) 2 2
Bell Boy, b. g. (Lyon) 3 3
Little Prince, b. g. (Dowel) 4 4
Bud Hal, br. g. (Lawrence) 5 5
Time: 2:12 1/2, 2:13 1/2, 2:14 1/2.

215 TROT, PURSE $2000
Peter, b. h. by Peter the Great (Edman) 1 1
Alexander B., ch. g. (Page) 2 2
Belen, b. g. (Dore) 3 3
The Jolly Landlord, b. g. (H. Smith-Land) 4 4
Time: 2:14 1/2, 2:15 1/2, 2:16 1/2.

THE SOUTH ENDS AND GILLESPIES
At Spaulding park, tomorrow afternoon, the South Ends and Gillespies will play off their tie in the final contest of the Twilight League series. The winners will go the little of city champions, a purse of $3000.

The game will open at 3 o'clock. Both teams have won six out of eight games and a tight contest is expected. J. Liston, R. Liston, Hubert, Fells, McGowan, McLaughlin, Jenkins, Green, Buckley, Dean, White, Bridgford, Wells and Lyons will play for the South Ends and White, Poulton, Bird, Williams, Stevens, Parrell, McVey, Smith, Franz, Marcotte, Sheehy and Adams will represent the Gillespies.

SULLIVAN FAILED AFTER PLUCKY FIGHT
RAMSGATE, Eng., Sept. 10.—Henry Sullivan of Lowell, Mass., who started from Dover Wednesday night to swim to the French coast, had got within two miles of his goal when he was obliged to give up his attempt at 1:15 yesterday afternoon.

Sullivan had then been about 18 hours in the water. He made a plucky fight, but stomach trouble, which he first felt about 2 o'clock in the morning, continued at intervals, until he found it impossible to complete the journey.

LOWELL MAN ELECTED
Arthur F. Salmon Named Secretary and Treasurer at Meeting of Veterans Ball Players

ABINGTON, Sept. 10.—The 25th annual reunion of the Junior Baseball Players of Massachusetts, 1873, 1874, 1875, took place yesterday afternoon at "Camp You Say," on Mystic street, the home of the organization's president, Freeman N. Young. About 100 invitations were sent out for the reunion, and 15 members attended.

Among the places represented were Abington, South Weymouth, North Weymouth, Lowell, West Roxbury, Manchester, N. H., Brockton and Grotton. The affair proved the usual big success, and the old-timers had a grand good time. The program opened with a buffet luncheon, served by Young, the host.

A business meeting followed the luncheon and in the afternoon some of the more spry members played ball, while others pitched quills or passed the time spinning yarns of the days gone by. President Young presided at the business session. It was voted to have the next reunion in the same place on the second Thursday in September, 1921. The club talked over plans for a big celebration on the 50th anniversary in 1923. By one exception of officers were re-elected. To fill the vacancy caused by the death, less than a month ago of the club treasurer, B. Arthur Burr of Boston, Arthur F. Salmon of Lowell, the club secretary was made both secretary and treasurer. John J. Wilde of Brockton was re-elected vice president, and the board of governors is made up of Dr. A. J. Gilson of Quincy, George H. Reed of West Acton and Charles S. Beal of Rockland, with the officers.

TIGERS BEAT YANKIES
New York Yankees Hit Hard—Ruth Makes His 47th Home Run—Score 10 to 4

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 10.—Cleveland won the first game of the series with New York, 10 to 4, driving Quinn and McGraw from the box. Collins being taken out because he hurt himself sliding into second base. New York took a lead of two runs in the first half of the first inning, but Cleveland tied it in the second. New York again went to the front in the third and Cleveland tied it again in the fourth. With two out in the eighth Smith walked, Gardner singled and Johnson tripled, and the Yankees took out and Collins substituted. Johnson at once stole home. McGraw was battered hard in the 9th, when Cleveland scored four runs and Collins was fired when McGraw replaced him with two out. Johnson's batting and a catch by Smith, robbed Ward of a triple with men on bases were the features. Ruth made his 47th home run drive over the right field wall in the third inning. The score:—
New York 2 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 4 6 2
Cleveland 1 1 0 1 3 0 6 4 x—10 14 5
Coughlin and O'Neill; Quinn, Collins, McGraw, McGraw and Hannab.

AMERICAN SURE TO WIN GOLF TITLE

ROSLYN, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The last foreigner to win this year's amateur golf championship of the United States was defeated yesterday and the new champion is certain to be an American. Francis Ouimet of Boston again saved his country's honor in golf in 1920 by defeating the English professional, Vardon and Ray, for the American Open title. Yesterday he eliminated Thomas D. Arnold of Scotland, holder of the French amateur championship, 5 and 1. Arnold was the last of four golfers from Great Britain, seeking the title to remain in the tournament. He was the only one of the quartet to qualify. The only other foreign invader to qualify, C. P. Grier, the Canadian champion, succumbed in the first round.

The south was victorious yesterday in a contest with the north when Bobby Jones, the 20-year-old wizard from Atlanta, defeated the Massachusetts champion, F. J. Wright, Jr., 22 years of age, by 6 and 4. Tomorrow the sectional rivalry will be continued for the draw puts Jones against Grier. They have never met before in an important match.

The other semi-finalists are Chick Evans of Chicago and Edward P. Allis of Milwaukee. Yesterday Evans, a former champion, defeated W. C. Fowkes, Jr. of Pittsburgh, also a former amateur champion, by 7 and 4. Allis won by 2 and 1 from J. Wood Flat of Philadelphia, who defeated champion Dave Herron Wednesday and defeated Ouimet at Oakmont last year. The work of Allis, a former Harvard star, has been one of the surprises of the tournament.

First Move in Charter Work
Continued

When the city messenger appeared and switched on the lights and the observation was made that the commissioners were not showing any very great amount of enthusiasm for beginning their work.

It was nearly 8 o'clock when Chairman James B. Casey brought his gavel down with a bang and the work of altering the old, or framing a new, charter was begun.

The first business considered was the report of a sub-committee appointed to my out a plan of procedure for the commission. The different articles were adopted without opposition until the section was reached dealing with the number of meetings to be held each week. The committee recommendation called for two weekly gatherings.

The last words of the article had scarcely been read by Clerk Abel R. Campbell when Commissioner Doran was on his feet with the statement: "That is the article I want to get at. I think we can get along all right with one meeting a week."

Why Did They Pick Two? Commissioner Slattery—"I should like to hear from members of the commission as to why they picked two evenings a week. They must have had some reason."

Commissioner Farrington—"We shall have about 16 or 17 weeks before we must report to the legislature. If we are to hear from the mayor and the different commissioners we can only take care of one each week. There will also be time required for the school committee. Then there will be public hearings. With one meeting a week we shall be well along into December before we get down to the business of considering the building of a charter. I don't see how it will be possible to do the work with one meeting a week."

Chairman Casey attempted to pour a little oil upon the troubled waters by stating that if the committee recommendation for two meetings a week was adopted the provision could be changed later on if it seemed desirable.

"I believe," he said, "we should get down to work with two meetings a week."

It was finally voted to adopt the recommendation to hold two meetings a week, the evenings on which the meetings are to be held to be decided by the commission previous to adjournment at each meeting.

Chairman Casey referred to the purpose of the commission in asking members, and prospective members, of the legislature to be present at the meeting.

"We felt," he said, "that as the act creating the charter commission originated in the legislature we should like to have the senators and representatives present. If you have any suggestions to offer regarding a charter, we should like to hear them. We also desire to be assured of your cooperation. We should like to be assured that the charter when complete will be passed by the legislature with a referendum provision attached."

Commissioner O'Donnell—"Are we to expect the members to bind themselves in advance to approve of all that we do?"

Chairman Casey—"There should be a later conference. We shall differ on details of the charter. Not all of us will agree as to the wisdom of all of the results of our work. There will have to be compromise. We cannot expect that the legislators will agree with all that we do. But we do want to be assured of their cooperation."

Senator Putnam has assured me of his support for the work of the commission."

No Pledge in Advance
Chairman Casey then called upon Representative Victor F. Jewett for an expression of opinion.

"I have some very positive ideas about a charter for Lowell," said Mr. Jewett. "I should like to be present at a later meeting of the commission and present them. As a member of a tribunal that is to sit in judgment on a new charter I cannot be expected to pledge myself in advance as to what I shall do. I shall be glad to cooperate with the commission."

Representative Henry Achin, Jr. was called upon to speak by the chairman.

"The members of the legislature," he said, "felt that they were granting unusual powers to Lowell when they passed the charter, commission bill. Another city in Middlesex county was asked for the same privilege and was denied it. Your work will be watched by every other city in the commonwealth. Your report will be read by every member of the general court."

"You don't expect any member of the legislature to tell you tonight in advance that he will swallow all of your work. I have very positive and concrete ideas as to what charter changes should be made. The present charter has been a dismal failure."

Chairman Casey then called upon Representative Victor F. Jewett for an expression of opinion.

"I have some very positive ideas about a charter for Lowell," said Mr. Jewett. "I should like to be present at a later meeting of the commission and present them. As a member of a tribunal that is to sit in judgment on a new charter I cannot be expected to pledge myself in advance as to what I shall do. I shall be glad to cooperate with the commission."

Representative Henry Achin, Jr. was called upon to speak by the chairman.

"The members of the legislature," he said, "felt that they were granting unusual powers to Lowell when they passed the charter, commission bill. Another city in Middlesex county was asked for the same privilege and was denied it. Your work will be watched by every other city in the commonwealth. Your report will be read by every member of the general court."

"You don't expect any member of the legislature to tell you tonight in advance that he will swallow all of your work. I have very positive and concrete ideas as to what charter changes should be made. The present charter has been a dismal failure."

MOTHER MUST WIN GIRL'S LOVE IN 30 DAYS

BROOKLYN—Justice Squiers, of the Brooklyn supreme court, has given Mrs. Mary Immordino 30 days to win the affection of her 15-year-old daughter, Josephine. The girl has lived with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Garrati, for 10 years, since the death of her father. She wants to stay with them, while the mother wants her to come home. In court, recently, she said she owed everything to her uncle and aunt, and that she didn't care to go to her mother. The court ruled that if the girl showed no more love for her mother in 30 days, he could do nothing.

Sleep Like a Top

There is nothing so essential to good health as good sound, refreshing sleep. This you can not get if your stomach, liver or kidneys are out of order. It's an easy matter to keep these important organs in good condition if, when they are not working properly, you will take for a few days from 10 to 20 drops of SEVEN BARKS in a little water after each meal. It is a safe and remarkable remedy, scientifically blended from the extracts of roots and herbs, and has stood the test for nearly half a century.

If you want to "sleep like a top," as the old saying goes, you must take good care of your health.

SEVEN BARKS comes direct from Nature, and is a most valuable remedy in the home treatment of chronic disorders, such as indigestion, constipation, rheumatism, liver, kidney and stomach troubles. As a tonic and general corrective SEVEN BARKS is without an equal, and should be in every home. It is Nature's way of supplying tone and strength and overcoming disease.

Sleepless nights will cause you to get up in the morning, tired and unrefreshed, with a dull, heavy head, drowsiness, etc.—these are symptoms of deranged stomach, an inactive liver and kidneys. SEVEN BARKS will help remove the cause of these troubles. It acts gently and safely, but very efficiently. At druggists. Price 60 cents. —Adv.

"PILGRIM MAID OF 1920"

PROVINCETOWN, Mass.—"Beauty knows no age," 'tis said, and the Pilgrim maid of 1920 is just as dainty and pretty as the Pilgrim maid of 1020. Miss Josephine Young, daughter of President William H. Young, Pilgrim tercentenary committee, here, proves it. She appears in the garb of the Pilgrims at the celebration here, commemorating the arrival of the Mayflower.

EXPECT NEW RECORDS

Plans for National Balloon Race and International Contests Completed by Aero Club.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The national balloon race scheduled to start from Birmingham, Ala., this month and the international contests for balloonists to start from the same city in October are expected by Aero club officials in charge of the races to set new records. This hope is based upon the greater gas capacity of the balloons and lessons of construction learned in the war.

The national event, due to start September 25, will see 15 contenders lined up, each aspiring to be one of three who will defend the Gordon Bennett cup, which has been in America since being lifted from France in 1913 by Ralph Upson, of Akron, Ohio. Upson, present international title holder, made his entry as soon as the race was announced. Three bags have been entered by the Army Air Service, one by the navy, and another by the Army Balloon school, Fort Omaha. The other 10 balloons have been entered by civilians. The entry of the balloon school will be piloted by A. Leo Stevens, who, with Professor David Todd, of Amherst college, won fame last spring by an attempt to pick up radio-electric waves from Mars through a receiving station 30,000 feet above the earth.

The second race, which is to start October 23, will be the fourth occasion on which the United States has defended the Gordon Bennett International trophy since its foundation in 1906. The entries, six in all, are: Italy, two; United States, three; and Belgium, one.

Although America is the title holder by virtue of winning the last race, France has an unbeaten record for distance, made in 1915 when Maurice Bessonne covered 1,351 miles without touching land, beating the American record of 1,172 miles set in 1910 by Alan R. Hawley.

The balloon "Belgica" of 2,000 cubic meters capacity, has been entered by the Aero club of Belgium. It will be piloted by Ernest Demuyter, who contested in the race of 1912.

Some motorists have a mistaken idea that there will be greater efficiency in supplying current to the igniter coils from more than the requisite 5 or 6 dry cells, connected in series. Such action may result in burning out the condenser and consequent ruin of the coil.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store; it is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

KING'S SON PRISONER OF SINN FEINERS

LONDON, Sept. 10.—That Prince George, the king's youngest son, was Monday night a prisoner of Sinn Feiners for several hours became known yesterday.

Balmoral castle, where the royal family is spending its vacation, was in an uproar, and the kidnapping is still a mystery to the big detail of Scotland yard sleuths, who are here on guard.

Three masked men captured the prince and a man servant while they were returning from a fishing expedition about 9.30 o'clock, and hurried them to an empty cottage on the outskirts of Balmoral woods, where the two were locked up.

It was several hours later when the castle realized that the prince was missing. The king and queen organized a searching party of castle servants and aroused the royal guards and the London detectives. The entire neighborhood was thoroughly searched and the two prisoners finally discovered in darkness in the cottage.

"This is but the beginning of the end of MacDonnell's life," was scrawled on a paper left by the kidnappers, who had disappeared without attempting to harm the prince.

The royal family is much disturbed fearing that the kidnapping was the work of Irish sympathizers among the servants in the castle and that they might be able to keep the threat contained in the note if MacDonnell should die. Others feel it was but a rough practical joke of Irish sympathizers, which will not be followed up. The Scotland Yard men, however, are silent on the matter.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
Directors Will Discuss City Charter Question—Major Wildman To Be Guest at Luncheon.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce last Monday afternoon there will be an informal discussion of the part that the chamber is to play, if any, in the effort that is being made by the chamber commission to provide a more satisfactory city charter.

Major Wildman, in charge of the United States army recruiting corps now in Lowell, will be a guest at luncheon at the meeting of the directors.

It is expected that representatives of the chamber will undertake in the near future to arrange for a conference with the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway regarding the re-routing of car lines in the business centre of the city.

Judging from the number of inquiries regarding the desirability of making investments in German marks received at the chamber the bottom has practically dropped out of the market for the German securities as sources of get rich quick wealth insofar as this city is concerned. Inquiries regarding the reliability of other securities continue to be received in considerable numbers.

BOLSHEVIK GOLD SENT TO LONDON PAPERS

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Admission was made this morning by the Herald, organ of labor, that it has in its possession £75,000 of "Bolshevik gold," the newspaper stating the money is being held pending a decision by the shareholders as to whether it should be used.

The opinion of readers as to the acceptance of the money is asked by the newspaper which publishes the admission on its first page under glaring headlines.

Last month, charges that the Russian soviet government was subsidizing newspapers in other countries for the purpose of carrying on propaganda were published here, and the Herald was named as one journal which had received money from the Bolsheviks.

The newspaper refers to the soviet funds as "a magnificent demonstration of real working class solidarity and of what Russians mean by internationalism."

"To accept it," says the Herald, will be to complete a notable episode in international socialism. The increasing cost of production and the political shyness of advertisers makes it necessary for us at once to double the price of this paper, if this money is not accepted."

More New Things for Fall are Coming to Our Store Every Day

New Tricotine, Tricolette and Serge Dresses

Serge, Tricotine and Tricolette frocks are always very popular for early fall, because they can be worn without a coat on many, many occasions.

Navy blue tricotines and navy blue serges are made up in a variety of beautiful ways—all a bit different from the styles we've had before. Straight lines, basque effects, straight blouse style with knife plaited tunics and plain draped tunics are in good taste.

For as little as $22.50 we have some very clever styles in serges. And at $29.50 you can select any number of becoming styles in tricolette.

(Fashion Shops, Second Floor)

New Fall Suits Seem Lovelier Than Ever

Coat lengths in these new modes vary from 30 inch to three-quarter lengths, according to the suit style. Graceful straight line effects are to be the favorite for women; while misses may choose between new and different ripple effects and nobby straight line box coats. One of the new features in modes for younger women is the large cape collars of self material—very smart.

Brown in its hosts of different shades promises to be the leading color. Here are selections at $39.50, $45, $49.50, $69.50.

The Latest Store News

I F I were to tell you that we had some very smart table covers made of paper you would say: "A paper table cover, whoever heard of such a thing?" But really we have some very novel ones—you can't wash them, but they may be wiped off with a damp cloth, just like oil cloth. Size 54x84, and price $2.98

BABY toes—tiny, dear little pink and white affairs so soft and warm. But baby toes are just as apt to get cold as real grown up toes, so we have some cunning little hot water bottles for that very purpose. Just right for the bassinet or baby carriage 98¢

SPEAKING of Baby Things reminds me—
"When I get toothies
Watch me rush
To get myself
A Kewpie Brush."

Kewpie Brushes make children want to use their toothbrush at least twice a day. Toilet Goods Department 25¢

I NOTICED some very fine solidly built Cedar Chests on our third floor the other day. Small ones, medium ones and large ones. A "Hope" chest is something that every girl has a secret desire for. Now is a good time to buy one—you can fill it during the coming winter months.

OF course, if you've never been a girl of 6 to 10 summers, never climbed a tree, rode a bicycle, or done the hundred and one other energetic things that real girls do, you won't be interested in the wide plaited serge bloomers that we are showing in The Little Grey Shops for $3.98

AND if you've never been a little boy that had to wear curls when all the other "Fellers" had their hair cut you won't be interested in the Kiddies' Barber Shop on the second floor. A jolly barber will soon do away with those curls that make a regular boy look like a girl. A hair cut is only 25¢ in the morning.

IT is such a bother to have to carry a great many bundles when one is busy shopping. Why not check your parcels at our information desk on the street floor? There is no charge—we are only too glad to be of service to you.

DON'T forget our Self Service Grocery Store on Prescott street. Watch for our Friday night advertisements. Just compare our prices with other grocery stores. Of course, we have little overhead expense as we have no deliveries, no telephone orders, no charges, thus we are enabled to have such low prices.

WHAT I just said about no deliveries, no telephone orders and no charge applies ONLY to our Self Service Grocery store. The rest of the store spells service with a capital "S."

SHOP by phone if you can't shop in person. Just call Lowell 5000 and courteous clerks will give you prompt and careful attention.

REST a while in our Victrola Brunswick Department. We will be glad to play your favorite record at any time. If you saw "Mary," that very fascinating musical comedy which only recently played in Boston, you will surely want the song hit, "The Love Nest." Hear it on our Victrola Salon today.

DON'T forget to make your appointment early for a shampoo. If you wait until the last minute you are liable to be disappointed. Call Lowell 5000 and ask for our Beauty Shops.

TURKS BESIEGE TARSUS

Birthplace of St. Paul, 20 Miles From Adana, Under Fire—Food Scarce

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 9.—(By Associated Press)—Tarsus, the birthplace of St. Paul, 20 miles southwest of Adana, is being besieged by the Turks, and the French garrison and the 25,000 inhabitants of the place are short of food, according to a letter received here from Prof. Paul Nisus, who is in charge of St. Paul's Institute there.

The Turks are fighting from the shelter of fig and orange groves on the plain surrounding the city, relying on their rifle fire to hold the French garrison within the walls. The French are making every effort to save the pretty, clean white walled town. Airplanes drop letters in the streets, but are unable to alight because there is no room for a landing place in the city. A French column which attempted to relieve the garrison met a reverse in the village of Saca Ibrahim while marching from Mersina, a seaport 20 miles away to the northeast.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Annual Election of Officers Held Last Evening—Committee Report on Arrangements for Ladies' Day

The main business of the meeting of the Lowell council, 72 Knights of Columbus, held last night, was the annual election of officers, which was followed by the reports of the committee in charge of arrangements for ladies' day to be held next Sunday at the Genoa club grounds in Tyngsboro and by the appointment of a committee of 10 to plan for the celebration of Columbus Day October 12.

The election of officers resulted as follows: George F. Briggan, grand knight; John E. Hart, deputy grand knight; Hugh J. Molloy, chancellor; Thomas R. Molloy, secretary; Philip J. Breen, financial secretary; Patrick J. Nevin, recording secretary; Thomas J. Fitzgerald, treasurer; James E. Markham, advocate; Frank P. Finnegan, inside guard; Daniel P. Brennan, outside guard; James J. Molloy, trustee for three years; William Thornton, delegate to the state convention; Andrew Molloy, alternate; John H. McNabb, second alternate.

It was reported that ladies' day, next Sunday, would be similar to a basket picnic and that members and their families and friends are invited. A special program for the day has been arranged.

The Columbus Day celebration will consist of a service at St. Peter's church in the morning and a banquet in the evening to be open to friends of members.

TELEPHONE ALARM

At 2 o'clock this morning there was a telephone alarm for a slight blaze in the kitchen of the D. L. Fago Co. The damage was slight.

If your skin itches and burns just use Resinol

If you are suffering from eczema, ringworm or similar itching, burning, unsightly skin affection, bathe the sore places with Resinol Soap and hot water, then gently apply a little Resinol Ointment. You will probably be astonished how instantly the itching stops and healing begins. In most cases the sick skin quickly becomes clear and healthy again, at very little cost.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap also clear away pimples, redness, roughness and dandruff. Sold by all druggists.

To Keep Hair Curly, Wavy and Beautiful

Here is how your hair can be curled nicely, easily and harmlessly. Before doing it up, apply a little liquid silmerine with a clean tooth brush. In three hours you will have just the prettiest curls and waves—and they will look so natural you'll never think of doing without silmerine thereafter. You won't be troubled any more with hair stringing around your face—with burnt, uneven ends, nor with that dull, dead appearance. The hair will remain in curl ever so long.

Any druggist can of course supply you with liquid silmerine, and a few ounces will last you a long time. It is neither sticky nor greasy, and is really a delightful thing to use. It is doubly useful because of also serving as a beneficial dressing for the hair.—Adv.

Real Estate For Sale

On Thursday of last week the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company sold its last horse. The vehicle equipment is now entirely motorized and the stable at the Dracut Navy Yard has been closed. This entire property is for sale. The property consists of 76,000 sq. ft. of land with buildings thereon formerly used for the storage of cars and a stable with ten stalls. The property has a frontage of over 200 ft. on Lakeview ave. and an entrance from Pleasant st. The lumber alone in these buildings is worth over $10,000 and in the rear is a large two-tenement house. This would be a desirable property for manufacturing or storage purposes and on account of its convenient location to the Merrimack Woolen Co. it would make a desirable location for the construction of tenement property.

Inquiries should be made of or addressed to THOMAS LEES, Manager Lowell District. Tel. 4639.

Gabriele D'Annunzio Issues Proclamation Following Private News From Paris

FIUME, Sept. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Gabriele d'Annunzio yesterday proclaimed Fiume an independent state.

D'Annunzio declared he had received from Paris a letter which forced him to declare Fiume to be independent yesterday and that he would not wait until Sept. 12, as he had intended. The national council has resigned, the resignation being due to the fact that the council was unable to agree with d'Annunzio's new constitution for an independent state.

D'Annunzio despite the resignation of the council is continuing to make preparations for the program of festivities in honor of his proclamation of the independence of Fiume.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Captain Gabriele d'Annunzio, who yesterday proclaimed the "Italian republic of Quarnero" has summoned a constituent assembly to meet in six weeks, says a despatch to the London Times. The d'Annunzian troops have taken the oath of fealty to the new republic, it is said.

About Taking Advantage of Our Present Prices on

CRAWFORD RANGES and PARLOR STOVES

It's true we have a big lot on hand, bought last May, but we sell a lot of CRAWFORD RANGES, and we will soon be out of some style or size—and the moment we have to buy at the manufacturer's August 25th price we will have to charge you $8.50 to $23.00 more on a range. We don't want to do it. We don't like to do it—but we have no alternative. When the manufacturer charges us more we must charge you more. So take advantage of the present stock and buy now.

PRICE OF COAL DROPS

Soft Coal Now $7 a Ton—Drop of $5 a Ton in Two Weeks—To Be Lower

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—Soft coal prices have taken a sharp decline and now one in New England need pay more than $7 per ton for the fuel, which only two weeks ago cost from $10 to $12 a ton, according to George H. Cushing, director of the American Wholesale Dealers' association. Cushing promises still lower prices by Dec. 1.

The priority order situation affecting the New England and Great Lakes districts has developed a very "ragged" coal market. Purchasers in these sections have their coal brought right to their doors, Director Cushing avers. Trade prices all over the country are governed to a large extent by prices paid in the priority sections.

WALTHAM FAIR

The first annual exhibit of the Waltham fair for Middlesex county, conducted with the co-operation of the Middlesex county bureau of agriculture and home economics, is now being held in Waltham. The affair opened yesterday, continued through today and will close tomorrow afternoon. The program provides for displays of cattle, swine, sheep, agriculture, poultry, boys' and girls' exhibits, home economics and also for sport and horse shows and races.

VOLCANIC OUTBREAK FOLLOWS EARTHQUAKE

ROME, Sept. 10.—A volcanic crater has suddenly opened at the top of Pizzo d'Uccello, a mountain 5845 feet high about nine miles northeast of Spezia. It is located on what appears to be the northwest corner of the district shaken by Tuesday morning's earthquake, which resulted in the loss of hundreds of lives in the region just north of Florence. A telegram from Spezia states the crater is emitting smoke and sulphuric fumes, and that scientists there attribute the outbreak to the earthquake.

The shock which devastated scores of little towns and villages north of Florence seems to have followed the line of the mountains. This is common to earthquakes in Italy. Scientists say that intervals of years between quakes represent only minutes and seconds in geologic time.

Reports from northern Italy have given no further details of the situation nor have they told of the damage done by the tremor which shook the Emilia district, between the Apennines, and the River Po, yesterday morning. First reports stated the shock was more severe than that which destroyed Fivizzano and other towns north of Florence.

Cause of Quake

BERLIN, Sept. 9.—The seismograph station at Jena suggests as the possible cause of the Italian earthquakes a shiving of the earth along the mountains bordering the Gulf of Genoa. Experts there say it indicates a massive caving zone in the earth's crust.

LICENSES REVOKED

Operators' Licenses of Automobiles Involved in Fatal Accidents Revoked by Registrar of Motor Vehicles

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, Sept. 10.—Revocation of the operators' licenses of the automobilists who were involved in a fatal automobile accident which occurred last July and resulted in the death of Martin J. Griffin of Lowell, has been announced by Frank A. Goodwin, registrar of motor vehicles.

One of the licenses revoked is that of Francis E. Fack of Woburn, who was driving one of the motor vehicles involved in the accident. The other is that of Elizabeth M. Torlgian of Lowell, who was not driving, but who was in the other automobile, which at the time of the accident was being driven by an unlicensed person. This made her technically responsible for its control, and because the registrar was unable to find that the accident occurred without fault on the part of the operator, it was necessary to revoke her license.

Another license revoked by the registrar is that of Justin B. Jenkins of Westford, who on July 12 was involved in an accident which resulted in the death of Alice Corte of Lowell. Registrar Goodwin states in his order of revocation that he is unable to find that the accident occurred without serious fault on the part of the operator.

Herbert F. Ross of Chelmsford is still another who has lost his license for the same reason. His accident occurred July 8, and resulted in the death of Ladislaw Walewsky of Lowell.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—A "violent kick in the stomach" which she charges was administered on Christmas Day five years ago by Gustave Barnett, Jr., then five years old, was given here yesterday by Miss Martha Lewis, nurse, as the basis for two $10,000 damage suits filed against the boy and his mother.

She blames the mother for carelessness in not teaching her son to conduct himself properly, and in not warning her, when she was employed, of "his evil and vicious propensities."

First Move in Charter Work

Continued

I should like to present my views for your consideration at a later meeting."

Commission Form a Failure

Representative Thomas J. Corbett was the next speaker.

"I do not feel," he stated, "that the present commission form of government in Lowell has been a success. I believe that the commission is entitled to some form of assurance from members of the Lowell delegation in the legislature that they will co-operate in pushing the work of the commission to a successful conclusion. If there should be something in the charter as proposed by the commission that I cannot subscribe to, the place for me to make the fact known is here and not in the legislature."

"The voters of the city have already expressed their favorable opinion of the Plan B charter by casting 6000 votes for it; only about 400 less than the number necessary to secure its adoption. This shows that the voters favor a change."

"I should like to have the charter that I prepared and presented to the legislature in 1919 considered by the commission. Later I should like to be heard in regard to it."

"If we go before the legislature with the united support of the Lowell delegation, there is no question but that any charter approved by the commission will be promptly passed by the general court."

Pearson in the Dark

Senator Pearson was next called upon by the chairman. It seemed that he was not familiar with the work of the commission.

"Is the commission beginning or ending its work?" he asked.

"It is beginning," said Chairman Casey.

"I thought you said you had a report ready."

"No, we are not moving quite so swiftly as that."

Senator Pearson said he thought the commission should secure information from other cities. He said that he was in agreement with the statement that the present form of municipal government was not a success. He said that he did not think that Lowell's problems were different from those of other cities and that he should like to know what is being done elsewhere.

Representative Charles H. Slowe, the next speaker, said that he did not feel like pledging himself in advance to acceptance of the work of the commission, but that he would like to be heard later.

Representative Owen E. Brennan said that he would like to appear at a later meeting of the commission and express his views.

Representative Adelard Berard stated that he was going to look up the charters of some other cities and that later he should like to be present and help the commission with its work.

Hearty Support Plugged

Harry W. Leavitt, republican nominee from the 14th district, said that whatever decision the commission might arrive at, if he were elected to the legislature, it would have his hearty support.

Chairman Casey thanked the legislators for their expressions of opinion and assured them that the members of the commission would be glad to hear from them again at a later date. In answer to an inquiry by the chairman, Representative Jewett expressed the opinion that it would be possible to have incorporated in a charter act a provision under which the voters could express an opinion upon it next spring.

It was voted that Mayor Thompson, Superintendent of Police Welch and members and the agent of the board of health be present at the next meeting of the commission to answer questions.

Commissioner O'Donnell expressed a desire that a stenographer be present to take down what the mayor and commissioners might say before the commission.

"Are we going to drift around and arrive nowhere when these men come before us?" he asked. "We should have some line of questions prepared in advance."

Chairman Casey—"I don't see how we can get a set of questions outlined. There will be a general discussion in which every member will be entitled to ask questions."

No Muzzling

Commissioner Slattery said that he wanted it understood that every head of a department had a right to appear before the commission and express his views and that he should not feel that he would be subjected to unpleasant treatment by his superior if he did so.

Chairman Casey—"I don't believe that any head of a department will escape being asked as to how his department is functioning and as to whether there is co-operation in it with other departments. They will be asked to reveal weak points that they know of."

Commissioner Safford wanted some historical light shed on the proceedings. He called upon the two former mayors who are members of the commission for information and reminiscences.

Neither materialized immediately.

Clerk Campbell stated that as members of the legislature had expressed a desire to address the commission at a later date, dates not too far away in the future should be decided upon.

Corbett Has Charter

Representative Jewett—"I am prepared to be present at any time and give the commission my views on a new charter."

Representative Corbett—"I have presented to each member of the commission a copy of the charter that I prepared ten years ago. I should like to have the members of the commission study it. If, after having done so, they disagree with anything in my work, I should like to have a chance to come before the commission and explain."

Commissioner O'Donnell—"I have no hesitation in saying that I believe there are many serious faults in the present form of government. Unless the present charter is to be the basis of a new charter that we are to formulate, why should we spend time discussing its faults? You would not expect me to waste time suggesting amendments to the present charter if we are to discard it altogether."

Not Scientific

"Five men sitting together, as at present, and making appropriations is not a scientific way of doing things. Each man has always tried to get as much money as possible for his own department. It is radically wrong that money should be appropriated by the men who are to spend it."

Chairman Casey said that he hoped the work of the commission would have educational value in presenting to the people information as to ways in which the government of the city works. "If we accomplish nothing else," he said, "our work will have been worth while. He urged the members to be present at all of the meetings and said that the work of the commission should not be shouldered onto three or four men."

"Why did we change from the old two-chamber form of government?" asked Commissioner Safford.

Chairman Casey—"From my point of view the old form of government was a very good one. The change was made because we thought we should get better men. We haven't. There was one very valuable feature of the old form—it gave publicity to the acts of the government. The chairman said he believed that the mayor should have more power, and that at the present time three members of the municipality council—the mayor not the government. He mentioned the possible desirability of having a single chamber of nine or 15 members, and said that such a chamber would assure greater publicity. He said he believed the old form of government was more democratic than the present. "In the end it all gets down to a question of men," he said.

The meeting adjourned to next Tuesday evening when the mayor and heads of departments under his supervision will be grilled for information.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Registration at School in Broadway Reported to Be Double That of Last Year.

According to the report from the office of the Lowell Vocational school in Broadway, registration this year is about double that of last year. Wednesday last was the opening date for registering at the school, and on the first day the applicants at the school kept the clerk very busy. It is the custom to register students numerous more than the capacity of the school, because before the completion of the fall term many drop out and yield their places to boys better fitted and desirous to take up the work.

One of the number of courses offered at the boys' school preference is shown for those in automobile repairing and electrical work. Last year there were eight veterans of the world war receiving vocational training at the school at the expense of the government and this year there will be two.

MRS. CHARLES PEDEN

GAINED 27 POUNDS

Was Twice Examined and Each Time Told That An Operation Would Be Her Only Hope.

"I have just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and have gained twenty-seven pounds," was the truly remarkable statement made by Mrs. C. S. Peden, residing at 550 Mill St., Huntsville, Alabama. Mrs. Peden is one of the best known and most highly respected women of that city where she has made her home for a number of years.

"When I commenced taking the medicine," she continued, "I only weighed ninety-eight (98) pounds; now I weigh one hundred twenty-five pounds and never felt better in my life. For years I have suffered with a bad form of stomach trouble, constipation and pains in my side and back. At times the pains took the form of torture and I was twice examined and each time told that an operation would be my only hope. I had fallen off until I only weighed ninety-eight pounds and was so weak I could hardly get around."

"I had no appetite scarcely at all, and what little I did eat would cause gas to form in my stomach which gave me palpitation of the heart, sick headaches and a dizzy feeling about the head. When those evils came on me, I would get awfully nervous. I worried about myself until I could rest and sleep but little."

"I had fallen off until I was almost skin and bones and my strength and energy were slowly leaving me. I had a dread of the future and could see nothing but the operating table and an operation. It had made up my mind that it was either life or death and prepared to submit to it. I had made all preparations for the operation and called on my sister to tell her goodbye, as I did not know whether I would live to see her again or not. My sister begged and pleaded with me not to allow them to cut on me and told me to wait and try a good tonic for a while. The next day as I returned from the consultation room I thought of what she said, and as I had heard so much about Tanlac, I decided to try it as a last resort, and stopped at the drug store and got a bottle. Of course, I had lost heart and had no faith in medicine, but to please my sister, I made up my mind to take it, and oh, what a happy day that was for me!

"I never returned for the operation, but just kept taking Tanlac and my improvement has been so rapid that none of my clothes fit me. Right from the start I began to improve. The medicine seemed to take hold right at once. It had a soothing effect, and in a few days I felt no pain at all. I was so happy over my wonderful improvement that I sent for my neighbors to tell them how much better I felt. I sent and got another bottle of Tanlac and have just finished my third and feel like I have been made over again into a new woman."

"As I have said before, I now weigh one-hundred twenty-five pounds and none of my clothes are big enough for me, and I will have to make them over again. I now have a ravenous appetite and my husband says I am simply eating him out of house and home. I have even gone back to my coffee which I was told not to touch. Those horrible pains in my back and head have all disappeared and I sleep like a child. I am no longer nervous, and when I get up in the mornings I feel refreshed, cheerful and bright. I am now able to attend to my housework again and I feel as if I had started life all over. My husband is highly delighted and my recovery is the talk of the neighborhood. I do nothing but rejoice all day long over the recovery of my health and praise Tanlac to everybody."

"I feel so grateful for my escape from the operating table and the knife that you may publish what I have said; you may if you wish, tell other women suffering as I was to come and see me and I will be glad to tell them about my case."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store, Merrimack square, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

THE MOTORIZED CITY

When our principal streets were laid out, we knew nothing of the horseless cars or the more modern street locomotive, the automobile.

The growth of the automobile business is marvelous. This may be termed the automobile age, in which rapid transit over street and highway is the demand of the hour. As a result, we have inconvenience, crowding and numerous accidents. Scarcely a city in the country has met the problem of providing proper parking spaces for automobiles and in the matter of providing good roads, they are almost equally remiss.

Take any highway leading to any of the beaches or popular resorts on a Sunday or holiday and you will find a continuous procession of autos, running in either direction and so close that if one stops suddenly, it is likely to be run into by one close behind, that by another, and so on. By some, it is justly considered extremely dangerous to drive on the highways at all on Sundays and holidays, owing to the crowding and the care that must be exercised at all times to avoid collision.

The danger is increased by the occasional speed maniac, by the unskilled driver, by the intoxicated chauffeur who runs amuck with disastrous effect to himself and others. Our streets are too narrow for the new conditions. We must plan all new streets differently. No longer should the real estate owner be allowed to lay out streets so as to make the most of the tract of land on which he builds. In too many cases public streets have been laid out without any regard for regularity or public convenience. They are crooked, and out of symmetry with adjoining streets; they are too narrow and altogether inadequate to meet the needs of the present, much less of the future. The cities of the future must be laid out on a more extended scale than those of today; the streets should be at least twice as wide as those of today in order to accommodate the new engines of traffic and locomotion.

Lowell is no worse off than other cities of her class on account of narrow and irregular streets. Unfortunately some of our main thoroughfares, such as Gorham street and Central street, are so narrow that the problem of widening them or of building subways under parts of them, will undoubtedly be one of the pressing questions of the future.

The laying out of our streets, which in the past has been the business of nobody in particular, except land owners and speculators, should receive the most careful attention. Every new street of any length should be wide enough for a double line of car tracks with enough space for two autos to pass on either side. Otherwise, there will be crowding and danger in case of congestion. Our municipal council, we believe, has made no special rules in reference to the width of new streets; but it is an important matter that should be regulated by ordinance and left to the supervision of the city engineers department.

But in addition to the need of city planning in laying out new streets, there must be some system adopted for keeping all our streets in proper repair. Only in this way can we properly provide for public safety, convenience and necessity in the matter of street traffic under the new order of things that has practically banished the horse and crowded our streets with motor vehicles.

It is not too soon now to begin planning to meet the new conditions resulting from the urgent demands for wider and better streets, for public parking places and for improvements that will offer greater security to all who use our streets and highways, whether in vehicular travel or on foot.

PAY OF TEACHERS

After investigation of the salaries paid teachers throughout the commonwealth, the legislative committee appointed for the purpose, has reported in favor of higher salaries. It did not require any special committee to ascertain the fact so clearly evident everywhere that the pay of teachers is not as high as it should be compared to that of other professions or even mechanical workers who require but little education. Furthermore, it was already well known that country towns are not paying their teachers living wages. If the report of this committee results in securing legislation which will put the teacher's position on a more equitable basis, it will have rendered a much needed service to the cause of education.

Already many experienced teachers have left school work to enter other lines of business where they could earn more money. Somehow, the assumption that teachers should put aside other opportunities offering greater emolument for the love of their calling, does not appeal to many of them in these times of high prices and profiteering.

The teacher must wear respectable clothes, must reside in a decent home and these requirements come high nowadays. At last, however, it seems that the teachers will be paid much better than they have been. As a result of the tendency to increase salaries all along the line, the registration at normal schools for the fall term is reported to be higher than usual, so that the shortage of teachers is likely soon to be overcome as a result of brighter prospects ahead.

THE CHARTER COMMISSION

The charter commission, that began its fall session of work last evening, has a more than ordinarily promising opportunity to perform a service of lasting worth not only to Lowell but to the cause of good municipal government generally.

A few years ago, when the legisla-

London Wins

Over in London they say they have the British Empire, meaning, the sunlight in circumference. The average, as reported by cable, is seven inches. And Britshers go so far as to say feminine ankles there are finer and by the sun token, prettier, than those exhibited by the fashionably short skirt this side of the Atlantic. Be that as it may. Does anyone care if it smothered to be proud of? The living skeleton of the circus has a stunner ankle than that which so firmly upholds the fattest lady on the nearly out of order stage.

It is prettier because skinner? So it may be just as well to concede to London the more or less doubtful honor of having the prize skinny ankles.

Canoodling Banned

Every few days you learn something new, don't you. This happens to be one of those days. Hampton, England, has enacted a law against canoodling. What, never heard of canoodling? Yet you yourself may have been guilty of that fierce crime. Canoodling, my dear, is nothing worse than using the words of the Hampton council, "biling and coining while canoeing." A stop must be put to canoodling. Something ought to be done by the village of Natus. Or the G.O.P., or the present administration. It is terrible to think how many young people might be getting fine exercise paddling, if some of the world's best fishing, and yet they waste their time canoodling. Hampton takes the leadership in the crusade against canoodling. Hampton is going to seal up and hard whenever they are caught canoodling. Here's the program of punishment for Hampton canoodling: "Arm around waist $25; holding hands, $5; all three, jail sentence."

Politics

I do not care for politics. It seems a lot of bunk. The arguments the statesmen use are often worthless junk. They'd have me think that but for them the country'd go to pot. Well, really, as I size them up, they're a self-seeking lot.

The campaign speakers saw the air. They get so much a week. They make me weary often, when I go to hear them speak. I listen to the candidates, and both seeking to be fit. And if I must believe them both, why, neither one is fit. —Somerville Journal.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

"How great a matter a little fire kindleth." I am not going to undertake to state who may have written that sentence. I recently wrote the authorship of a quotation to Will Carleton that should have been credited to Sam Walter Foss, and it led to Sam Walter Foss, and it led to the mistake convinced one of the wisdom of minding my Ps and Qs in such matters in the future. I will simply leave it to the reader, if aut-ly interested, to determine the authorship of the sentence and make its application to the story that follows. If it has any. I was seated in a hotel lobby last evening when a man entered wearing a felt hat that was obviously and almost obtrusively new. Approaching a waiter of a straw lid equally obviously new, the new comer gave in greeting:

"Hello, Bill, guess you must have slept soundly last night."

"Sure, always do. Didn't you?"

"So much about what I heard the bell ring."

"What bell?"

"Say, Bill, you're asleep yet, wake up." Whack went a heavy hand on top of the straw hat of last May's vintage. "That old lid of yours should be in the bone orchard. Didn't you know that the bell rings calling in straw hats at midnight Labor Day every year?"

That started the argument that waxed fast and furious for a while until to whom the straw-hat season is officially and authentically closed. The wearer of the straw hat insisted that the date recognized by precedent, and custom is September 15. A number of people finally became involved in the argument. The problem was not solved.

I doubt if there are many other places on the map where there are so many railroad junctions as within a few miles of Lowell, particularly in the neighboring town of Tewksbury. Many of these junction points are an inheritance from the old days when there was more than one railroad line in the territory in question and there was strenuous competition between them for business. Then there came the time of cut-throat and extensions were built to cut into the rich pickings of rival roads. Within a short distance of each other are Salem Junction, Lawrence Junction and Tewksbury Junction. Not far away are Lowell Junction and Wilmington Junction. In the old days what used to be the Western division of the Boston & Maine, running from Boston to Lowell via Lawrence, Lowell Junction and Lowell Junction, was the Boston & Lowell Junction. When a direct line to Boston was built by the Boston & Maine, competition between that road and the Boston & Lowell began. The Boston & Maine directors thought they saw a chance to make money by getting into Lowell. Therefore they shot line across the territory of the Lowell Junction. The Lowell road looked upon Lawrence as a desirable field to enter. By building an extension from Wilmington Junction it was able to enter that city. In the days of the past, therefore, there were two railroad lines bidding for the business of both of the cities. They both made money, although there was competition in fare rates. As means of an attractive business the rival roads tried to outdo each other in building attractive stations in the two cities.

To complicate the snarl of junction points, when the two roads began to compete with each other, they found the old Lowell & Salem railroad stretched straight across their path.

COMMUNICATIONS

Editor of The Sun, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: Will you give me a little of your space to write on a simple question of right and wrong which has a bearing on the recent discussion in the school board and a subsequent interview with the chairman.

Before a man can assume the duties of an office he is obliged to take the oath of office. The oath of office is a promise to perform faithfully the duties of that office.

The discussion referred to above apparently arose because two members of the board wished to further the policy of "Lowell schools for Lowell girls."

Let us examine this policy and see what it really means. There is, of course, no prejudice in Lowell against Lowell girls for that reason alone. The slogan, then, means that an inferior candidate from Lowell shall be preferred to a superior candidate from out of town. This means robbing many children to help out one girl.

As advocated by a citizen who is not in office, it is wrong. As advocated by a school official it is a distinct breach of contract, for his oath binds him to do his best for the schools.

It is unfortunately common for our city officials to violate their oaths by employing incompetent, and by employing unnecessary help, to further their own interests, but the commonness of the wrong does not make it any the less dishonesty and a breach of contract.

I realize fully that in all but a few cases this dishonesty arises from ignorance. The perpetrators do not know enough to appreciate that their acts are blameworthy; and, as I hear opinion, incompetent officials are usually considered as absurd rather than criminal.

It is to be hoped that this absurdity may be kept out of our schools.

Yours truly,

POLICE COURT NEWS

Boys Found Guilty of Breaking, Entering and Larceny—Worcester Youth Fined for "Stealing Hide"

In the juvenile session of police court this morning, presided over by Judge Bright, four boys were found guilty of breaking, entering and larceny, and were each ordered to contribute their share to restitution and were put on probation for one year under suspended sentence to the Lyman school. Three other cases of delinquent children were disposed of by the probationary system.

In the regular session of court, Thomas McCloskey pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was ordered to serve 15 days in the house of correction.

Thomas B. Lombard, Worcester boy, was found guilty of unlawfully riding on a freight car of the Boston & Maine and ordered to pay a fine of $20 with the stipulation that he make payment to the probation officer from his own earnings. Donohue was caught on a freight car near Waverlet on Sept. 5 by Conductor Morrill. Four other boys with him made their escape.

Eva Alleck and Abraham Alleck, charged with assault and battery upon Louis Nalim, pleaded not guilty. The arresting officers, Bulter and Goggin, were put on the stand this morning, but after their testimony was given and cross-examination was completed, the court adjourned and continued the case. The officers said that they were called to Chabing street on the night of the assault where they found the above named defendants brandishing clubs and surrounded by about 40 or 50 people. Officer Bulter had to use his own club upon Abraham Alleck to arrest him. Mrs. Alleck, the police said, swung a chair leg and her husband was armed with a short stick armored with 35 nails.

Two women were arraigned in police court yesterday on the charge of larceny from various local stores. Both pleaded not guilty. The case was put over for one week, one of the defendants being held in $500 and the other in $300 for appearance on that date.

ARMY RECRUITING BRISK
The local army recruiting station has signed up seven men so far this month, making the outlook for the list of recruits for this month very promising. The list is as follows, with four men credited to Sgt. Perkins and three to Private Van Riper of the Central street office: Perry M. Dodd, Lowell; Joseph A. Sawyer, 14 Dracut street; Frederick Dickinson, Tewksbury; Paul Brown, 33 School street; Gardner, Mo.; Albert G. Diaz, 35 Saunders avenue, North Andover; Conlin Seaman, 135 Elm street, Manchester, N. H.; Michael Tanous, 301 Middlesex street. All seven enlisted for three year terms and Brown and Seaman requested service in Germany.

Lieutenant Kennedy, formerly in charge of the Lowell office, but now connected with headquarters in Boston, visited Lowell today on business connected with recruiting here.

BIG ULCER ALL HEALED

"Now I Can Walk," Says Mrs. Southcott of Medina

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peterson, of Buffalo. "One that I would rather have than a thousand dollars."
"Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big-hearted, rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to produce a remedy, with such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment, to sell at all drug stores for 25 cents a large box."
Read this letter, written February 14, 1918, by Mrs. Albert Southcott, of Medina, N. Y. It seems like a miracle, but it is true, every word of it.
"I know it because I get similar letters almost every day from people who have used my ointment for old sores, eczema and piles."
"Is it any wonder I am happy!" Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.
"Dear Sir:—
"I was an untold sufferer from an old running sore and ulcers. I had tried most everything without any relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first box took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just one ointment worth of the salve I am cured. The ulcer was 3 inches by 5 inches, it is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I be without Peterson's again."
"You may use this to recommend your ointment if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it." Yours truly, Mrs. Albert Southcott, Medina, N. Y. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

OPENS ALASKA TO AERONAUTICS

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Military and civilian aeronautical experts declare that the completion recently of the trip of four American army aviators from New York to Nome, Alaska, was as epochal in its military and commercial importance as Beriot's first flight across the English channel, since it opens Alaska to aeronautics.
Reports state that the Alaskans are determined to bring about regular communication through the air and now look to the government to foster the new project.
As the result of the flight, it is said, an aerial route has been photographed and charted diagonally across the United States, Canada and Alaska, with tentative supply and air service sites.
The air board states that the following has been accomplished by the flight:
An effective aerial route to the northwest corner of the American continent and Asia has been established. Inaccessible areas in Alaska which had never been mapped have been charted and photographed.
Usefulness of the airplane as a means of transport, both for mail, passengers and freight has been demonstrated. Necessity of landing fields, and service supply stations throughout the United States and its territories has been shown.
Durability of modern airplanes and motors has been proved and it has been learned that flying is safe—even over territory where transport by railroad, automobile and wagon is considered extremely dangerous.

The report of Captain St. Clair Street, who was in command of the expedition, states that the fliers considered the route across the eastern states as having few landing fields and not ideal in any instance. The middle of the west and Canada, he said, as far as

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE

Real Estate at Public Auction

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 11th, 1920

WILL BE SOLD IN TWO LOTS, NO. 1 AT THREE O'CLOCK AND NO. 2 AT THREE-THIRTY O'CLOCK, P. M.

By virtue of a license granted by the Probate court I shall sell at public auction in two lots the following described parcels of real estate of the late Mary A. Clark to the person that will bid the highest and comply with the terms of sale.

The property is situated on Middlesex street at the junction of South street, including both corners on South and Middlesex streets.

LOT 1 AT THREE P. M.
Consists of the land and buildings Nos. 153-154-155 and 155 Middlesex street and Nos. 6-10-16 and 25 South street and contains about 5065 square feet of land, more or less, with a frontage of about 60 1/2 feet on Middlesex street and about 136 feet on South street.

Nos. 153-154-155 and 155 Middlesex street and Nos. 6 and 10 South street is a 2 1/2-story building with a brick basement, has two stores and five tenements.

No. 16 South street is a 2 1/2-story building with one store and three tenements.

No. 25 South street is a 2 1/2-story building, has a basement store and three tenements. The whole have a yearly income of $5525, allowing $1800 for the yearly rent for the two vacant stores.

Each parcel has city water, gas and good sewerage and is in good rentable condition. The above three parcels will be sold in one lot.

LOT 2 AT THREE-THIRTY P. M.
Consists of a brick block, Nos. 152-154-156 and 155 Middlesex street, and a 2 1/2-story brick house, Nos. 17 and 19 South street, corner of Spring street, and contains about 5150 square feet of land, more or less, with a frontage of about 45 feet on Middlesex street and about 102 feet on South street. Nos. 152-154-156 and 155 Middlesex street has three stores on Middlesex street and one store, No. 11 South street, also 11 tenements. Nos. 17 and 19 South street has two tenements. The whole have a yearly rental of $10103. Has city water, gas and good sewerage.

There are fire escapes on the rear of the block facing Middlesex street leading to a back passage-way. This property has always rented well to good tenants.

Here are two corner parcels of real estate that are offered at public auction to the highest bidder without limit. It will be a long time before an opportunity of this kind will present itself again to the public. Two corner pieces of real estate, right in the centre of the downtown business section, on Lowell's best business street.

This property and its location is in a class by itself. What a chance to improve both corner lots. You can never be shut off from good light and air.

Terms of sale: $2000 in cash must be paid or secured to the auctioneer at time and place of sale, on each lot, as soon as struck off. The purchaser is to pay the taxes and all other municipal assessments. Other terms at sale.

Per Order, JOHN J. HOGAN,
Administrator with the will annexed of the Estate of Mary A. Clark.

Hoffman, both of this city. She was a member of St. Anne's Episcopal church. The body will be brought to Lowell by Undertaker W. Herbert Blake.

MASTER—Freeman C. Master died yesterday afternoon at the Lowell General hospital, aged 57 years. He leaves his wife, Annie A. Master, and only son, Melvin C. Master. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertaker W. Herbert Blake.

HILTON—Mrs. Emma P. Hilton died yesterday afternoon at the home of her son, Eli Brooks, 21 West Fifth avenue, at the age of 85 years, 5 months and 8 days. She is survived by two sons, James Brooks of Oswego, N. Y., and Eli Brooks of this city.

WEAVER—Mrs. Elbet E. Weaver died yesterday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Elbet Barnes, 432 Bridge street, at the age of 46 years, 9 months and 15 days. She is survived by her husband, W. H. Weaver, a daughter, Florence Weaver, her mother and a brother, Elmer A. Barnes. Mrs. Weaver was a member of the Centralville M. E. church.

McMANUS—Mrs. Mary McManus, an old and esteemed resident of the Collinsville section, died last evening at her home in the rear of 1122 Mammoth road. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. E. E. Bennett of Collinsville, and two sons, Andrew J. McManus of Collinsville, and five grandchildren. Her body was taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. E. Bennett, 25 Mill street, Collinsville, and will be buried there by Undertakers James E. O'Donnell & Sons.

LALINE—Gerard, aged 4 months, infant son of Edmund and Marianne Laline, died yesterday at the home of his parents, 41 Woodcock street. Burial took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon in St. Joseph's cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Napoleon Biledeau.

REQUIEM MASSES

QUIGLEY—An anniversary mass for the soul of Catherine Quigley will be sung at St. Peter's church Sunday, Sept. 13, at 8 o'clock.

HOLIDAY TRAVEL

According to a statement from the office of Mr. Philip H. Lee, local manager for the Eastern Massachusetts street railway company, labor day travel in this city over Labor Day week-end, this year, was slightly in excess of that of the corresponding period of last year. One reason for this difference is attributed to the fact that there was no parade last Labor day, and that the weather was not as pleasant.

FUNERALS

HAZARD—The funeral services of William E. Hazard were held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of Undertaker John A. Weinbeck, 42 Middlesex street, Rev. John Singleton, pastor of the Lawrence Street P. M. church, officiating. There were many beautiful flowers. The bearers were John A. Preston, James Scott, William Hazard and Jacob M. Edmunds. Burial took place in the family lot in Farm cemetery, Hudson, N. H.

PARISEAU—The funeral of Stella Pariseau took place yesterday from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Pariseau, 57 Cheever street. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, under the direction of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

HARMON—The funeral services for George A. Harmon were held at his home in Westlands, Chelmsford, yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. L. Keedy, pastor of the Congregational church of North Andover, officiated. The bearers were Arthur Barnard, William Lyons, Fred C. Whitteer and Alvin J. Flint. There were many beautiful flowers. Burial was in the family lot in the Edison cemetery, where the funeral service was read by Rev. Keedy. The funeral was under the direction of Undertaker W. Herbert Blake.

GERMAIN—The funeral of Mrs. Francis Germain took place this morning from her home, 29 Salem street, at 10 o'clock. High mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Peter's church at 8 o'clock by Rev. Antoine A. Amyot, O.M.I. The choir under the direction of J. N. Guilbault, rendered the Gregorian chant. The bearers were Thomas Morgan, George Rivard, Joseph Marcotte, Eugene Fleete, John Bellard and John Canoeur. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the funeral prayers were read by Rev. Amyot and Baron, O.M.I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Napoleon Biledeau.

HOWARD—The funeral of Miss Mary Howard took place this morning from the funeral rooms of Undertaker William A. Mack, 70-76 Gorham street at 9 o'clock and was largely attended. High mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Francis Shea at 9 o'clock. The choir under the direction of Miss Gertrude Quigley sang the Gregorian chant. The body being sustained by Miss Helen Quigley and Mr. James E. Donnelly. Miss Gertrude Quigley presided at the organ. There were many beautiful flowers as well as many spiritual bouquets. The bearers were Messrs. James A. Howard, Joseph M. Howard, William L. Howard, James Howard, Thomas H. Namack and Lot Halsey. Burial took place in the family grave in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. Francis Shea read the committal prayers. The funeral was in charge of Undertaker William A. Mack.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Elsie Ferguson's latest appealing Paramount picture, "Lady Rose's Daughter," showing at the Merrimack Square Theatre today, is a superb production of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's celebrated novel of the same name which scored a world success several years ago. The story is regarded as one of the best ever written by Mrs. Ward and was first published in Harper's magazine and later appeared in book form. The picture has scored a decided hit wherever it has been shown. An atmospheric presentation of the Scottish entertainers "Kincade Killick" is presented and is meeting with hearty approval.

MINOR EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS

FLORENCE, Italy, Sept. 5.—Minor earthquake shocks which have been felt since the disastrous tremor of Tuesday morning in the devastated zone north of this city, indicate the disturbance is subsiding, according to Father Alfani, director of the observatory here. He said today that small shocks succeeding each other, rather frequently, show the seismic phenomena are wearing themselves out.

WORLD WAR RELICS

American Legion Members Make Application to War Department for War Relics For Lowell

John J. Walsh, recently elected a member of the state executive committee of the American Legion at the state convention held in Springfield, has made application to the war department, bureau of war trophies, in behalf of his brother members of the post and the public in general for the awarding of four guns, relics of the world war, and the celebrated battles of that conflict, to this city for permanent exhibition either in the new auditorium or at Monument square.

Mr. Walsh has asked for the following pieces: Two six inch German rifles, one six inch howitzer and one Austrian 55 millimeter gun. The latter piece was one of the most efficient and "sure-shot" guns used during the world war, and hundreds of Lowell boys, who served overseas, would heartily favor the proposition of having one on display in this city.

There were 9000 war trophies, such as those mentioned, collected at the close of the war for distribution in the country, and 2000 have already been delivered to various organizations.

Because of the fine war record which Lowell made, the large number of men who served overseas, either in Battery F or the Y. D. division, and also because of the fact that Lowell stands second to Boston in this state in the number of decorations, including those of the French government, awarded to her soldiers.

FIRST MOVE IN CHARTER WORK

Charter Commission Held Its Initial Meeting Last Evening

Speakers Bang Present Form of Charter—Local Legislators Present

That the legislative act under which Lowell is now governed has few friends was indicated at the initial fall meeting of the charter commission in the council chamber at the city hall last evening. Blow after blow was landed, blow after blow on the body of the framework of the present form of municipal government as speaker after speaker reiterated the opinion that there were serious faults in its make-up. Another outstanding feature of the meeting was the development of the opinions of the members, and prospective members of the legislature, who had been invited to be present and not likely to be willing to adopt and push through the legislature without change the final results of the work of the commission. It was also made plain that a majority of the members of the commission take their work seriously and propose to carry it on as seriously as they promptly set upon a proposition that was urged to have the commission hold only one instead of two meetings a week.

Darkness Reigns
Darkness reigned in the council chamber at 7:30 p. m., the hour when the commission had been summoned to begin its meeting. A solitary commissioner was peering undecidedly within the door of the empty room.

INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN CONTINUES IN MAINE

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 10.—The intensive campaign by the republican and the democratic parties in this state in connection with the state election on next Monday, was continued today, with a score of rallies. Speakers from outside the state at day meetings included Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey at Madison and Elton H. Hooker of New York in Arundel county for the republicans.

The program for tonight included rallies addressed by Mrs. Antoinette Burke of Washington, in Auburn, W. Bourke Cockran of New York, and former state Attorney General Pattan-gall at Augusta in reply to Senator Lodge's attack last night on the League of Nations and by Homer S. Cummings at Waterville, for the democrats. Former Congressman La Guardia of New York, will address a republican rally at Lewiston tonight and Congressman Mages of New York speaks at Rum-ford.

THE CLOCK IN THE TOWER

City Council Discusses Question of Repairs to Old Church Clock

The clock in the tower of All Soul's church was the centre of interest for a brief time at the meeting of the municipal council this morning. The clock is a very venerable old timepiece. For many generations it has served to tell Lowellites how to set their clocks and watches. A while ago it went on a strike. Rather it became tired and worn out and concluded that the time had come for a rest. When it had rested awhile Commissioner Marchand was called in to see if something could not be done to call off the strike or put an end to the rest period.

OLIVE THOMAS DEAD

American Moving Picture Actress Dies As Result of Taking Poison

PARIS, Sept. 10.—Olive Thomas, formerly widely known on the American musical comedy stage and for several years past a motion picture star, died at 11 o'clock this morning in the American hospital at Neuilly, was taken to that institution last Sunday, suffering from mercurial poisoning, having swallowed a poisonous solution early that day by mistake, according to Dr. Joseph Choate, the American physician in charge of the case.

Recently Miss Thomas, who came from Europe with her husband, Jack Pickford, several weeks ago, had suffered from nervous depression, it was said.

First aid was promptly given his wife by Mr. Pickford, when he returned Sunday to the hotel where they were stopping, and found her in a serious condition, and every possible effort was made at the hospital to counteract the effects of the poison.

JAIL OFFICIALS BAR WOMAN AND BABY

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 10.—Mrs. Margaret Burlington, convicted in a federal court in Wisconsin of having used the mails to defraud, and sentenced to three years' imprisonment, was refused admission to the Missouri state penitentiary because she had a six months' old baby with her.

Under the terms of the federal commitment, Mrs. Burlington was to take the baby to prison with her and keep it for six months, after which the baby was to be in the custody of its father for six months. It was to alternate for six months' periods between mother and father, until the expiration of Mrs. Burlington's sentence.

The Missouri law, however, does not permit incarceration of children in the state prison.

The United States deputy marshal was directed to return to Wisconsin with his prisoner and inform the federal court that the baby could not be admitted to the Missouri prison.

WILSON REFUSES MINERS' REQUEST

President Turns Down Appeal to Reconvene Joint Scale Committee

Anthracite Workers Sought Consideration of New Wage Award

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—President Wilson in a telegram today to Representatives of the anthracite mine workers in Pennsylvania refused to grant their request to reconvene the joint scale committee of operators and miners for the purpose of considering a new wage award.

The president declared that when a body of men collectively refrained from working by mutual understanding, however arrived at, it was a strike no matter what name was given it. A majority of the anthracite miners had refrained from work under the guise of taking a vacation, the president said, and he told the committee that while he appreciated the earnestness of its efforts to get the men to return to work, and commended its stand in support of contract obligations, but in spite of this declared his unwillingness to reopen the wage question.

MAYOR SENDS CABLE

Lowell's Chief Executive Appeals to Lloyd George in Behalf of MacSwiney

Mayor Perry D. Thompson today sent the following cablegram to Premier Lloyd George in behalf of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork, Ire., now dying as a result of a hunger strike in a British prison:

Sept. 10, 1920.
Premier Lloyd George: As mayor of the city of Lowell, Mass., U.S.A., complying with the desire of many citizens of Irish descent in this city, I would respectfully ask leniency be extended in the case of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, feeling that his immediate release would serve the interests of humanity. This appeal is not intended as an infringement upon the sovereign rights of a friendly nation, but upon the basis of the broader humanities.

PERRY D. THOMPSON,
Mayor of Lowell.

POLICE INVESTIGATE FATAL ACCIDENT AS RESULT OF AUTO RACE FOR WAGER

Officer Said to Have Acted As Starter and Stakeholder and Also Made Bet

EXETER, N. H., Sept. 10.—John Duffy, of Lawrence, Mass., a mill worker, was killed early today in an automobile accident at Smithtown, which ended a race between two machines from Salisbury, Mass., to Portsmouth.

Police officials, who ordered Edward Arundel of Lawrence, driver of the car, in which Duffy rode, removed to a hospital here, were investigating a report that the race was for a wager in which a police officer acted as starter, and stakeholder, and took a small bet himself.

Charles McDonough, also of Lawrence, a companion of Duffy and Arundel, was taken to the Anna Jaques hospital at Newburyport, Mass., with a fractured hip. Fred D. Mauro, of Lawrence, escaped with minor hurts.

The automobiles had set out from Salisbury beach at a late hour speeding through the darkness toward Smithtown. They were abreast for a time at Smithtown, but the car of Duffy and Arundel dropped slightly behind. A wheel came off at the foot of a hill, the machine swerved into a tree and Duffy was killed instantly. The other party went on, apparently without knowing of the accident.

RECOUNT TOMORROW

Election Commissioners Ready to Begin Recount of Republican Vote Cast Here for Lieut. Gov.

It was stated at the office of the election commissioners this morning that a recount would probably begin at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, at the city hall, in the case of the election of the lieutenant governor at the last primary election in Wards 3, 6, 7 and 8. The papers filed for the recount had not been filed by the election commissioners, but they would arrive during the day.

The election commissioners have been opening up the check lists used at counting the number of votes cast of women. It is stated that it is probable that such a count may be made next week.

OLD-TIME PEDALISTS

Ancient "Safeties" and High-Wheeled Bicycles in Annual "Wheel Around the Hub"

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—Ancient "safeties" and high-wheeled bicycles once more trundled through the streets today when old-time pedalists gathered in the annual "Wheel Around the Hub" in the mounted on the machines of other days the wheemen pedaled over roads made greasy by morning rains which added something of adventure to their laborious advance. The run, which will last two days, was started last night at Mansfield, after pushing around the foothills of the Blue Hills, and tomorrow will return by way of the south shore.

DENIAL BY EARL OF DERBY

DM Not Resign as Ambassador to France Because of Disagreement Over British Russian Policy

PARIS, Sept. 10.—Reports that the resignation of the Earl of Derby as British ambassador to France was caused by a disagreement with the British government over the policy to be followed in Russia, were denied by the retiring ambassador last night.

He declared to the Associated Press that last spring he had requested the British government to relieve him before the end of the year, owing to his desire to resume his activities in England.

RETURNS TO FRONT PORCH

Sen. Harding to Meet Several Delegations of Negroes—Favoring Guest of Nominee

MARION, Ohio, Sept. 10.—Back from his "three days' trip in the northwest" Senator Harding resumed his front porch schedule today with a list of engagements to him that promised to occupy all of his attention for the next three or four weeks.

Several delegations of Negroes came from various parts of the country today to hear the nominee discuss public questions of particular interest to them. A trainload of Republicans from Detroit also had been given a front porch date, but it was postponed until tomorrow.

General John J. Pershing, who came here from Chicago last night on the Harding train, spent the night at the senator's residence and had a long talk with him this morning. The general said there was nothing political in the conference, as he expected to take no part in the campaign.

CLOSES ANOTHER BANK

Commissioner Allen Takes Over Prudential Trust Company of Boston

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—The Prudential Trust Co. of this city, with a capital of $200,000, was taken over by Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen today.

The troubles of the bank are not connected in any way with those of other banking institutions recently closed by him, the commissioner said.

Formally, Bank Commissioner Allen announced only that "under the authority invested in me by law, I hereby take possession of the affairs and business of the Prudential Trust Co."

Subsequently, he said, that the bank had been subject to steady withdrawal of deposits for some time. "Their loans are not in good condition, and include many bad and slow loans," he added.

The Prudential Trust Co., showed assets of $2,979,342 in its trust department, and of $571,837 in its savings department in the last regular examination of its accounts, made last November. It was a special examination a few days ago, which revealed conditions that caused the bank commissioner to step in, he said.

John H. McNamee, president of the Prudential, said he had no statement to make, regarding the closing of the bank is on Summer street, in the business section. Its savings department has been patternized to a large extent by department store clerks and office workers.

$40,000 in State Funds Tied Up

The closing of the Prudential will tie up $40,000 of state funds on deposit here. The city of Boston had $15,000 on deposit, with the bank up to last December, but City Treasurer Murray said today that he withdrew all municipal funds from the Prudential at that time because he did not feel that conditions at the bank were of the best.

UPHAM BEFORE SENATE PROBERS

Treasurer of Republican National Committee Recalled Today

Assumes Responsibility For Proposal to Raise Limit of Contributions to $10,000

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Fred W. Upham today told the senate committee investigating campaign funds that he took full responsibility for the proposal to raise the limit of republican campaign contributions to $10,000 from $1000.

"I was voted down by a large majority at a meeting in New York," he said.

He said "Form 101," the so-called Blair plan, was brought about by his advocacy of a larger contribution limit and was prepared after he had told Harry M. Blair, his assistant, that he believed the $10,000 figure would be adopted after the national convention had ended.

"I hoped the lid would be raised and I did recommend $10,000 as a limit," said Mr. Upham. "I presented this proposition at a meeting in New York attended by Will Hays, Charles Hollis, Alvin T. Hart, of Kentucky, William Daugherty of Ohio and Col. William Boyce Thompson of New York."

"They voted me down by a big majority and I stepped from the room and told Mr. Blair to telegraph his men in Chicago to send out Form 101."

"Two days later," continued Mr. Upham, "Col. Thompson went to Washington and saw Senator Harding and the candidate gave out a statement to the Associated Press that he had instructed the Republican national committee not to accept contributions of more than $1000 each, promising that if any change was made in the plan, the public would be notified before it was put into effect."

Mr. Upham said he did not write Form 101 and that it contained some expressions and ideas which he would not have approved.

"But Form 101 was, and is, dead," he added. "Furthermore the substitute Form 102, was no represented at the luncheon in the Tower room of the Union League club in Chicago, and I was there throughout that conference."

Mr. Upham agreed "absolutely" with Senator Pomeroy that the quotas sent from his office were "by no means the limit of the receipts and expenditures which may be made through the political machinery in New York and other states."

Cruiser in No "Immediate Danger"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The armored cruiser Pittsburg, aground in the Baltic sea, three miles off the Courland port Libau, is in no "immediate danger" although several sections of her double bottom are flooded with water, the navy department was advised today in a dispatch from Vice Admiral Huse on board the Pittsburg.

British Officials in Bitter Quarrel—Lloyd George Eager to Shift King Warned to Keep Hands Off—Unionists Against Clemency

LONDON, Sept. 10.—It is reported that the cabinet is at odds over the MacSwiney case and that Premier Lloyd George is facing one of the most embarrassing dilemmas of his stern political career.

mayor of Cork, despite the "firmness" of some of his previous statements on the subject but he is threatened with a revolt in the cabinet if the prisoner is released.

Quarrel is Bitter

The bitterness between the two factions of the ministry over the MacSwiney affair has reached such a point that sensational developments may be expected.

The premier is always for compromise when confronted by any serious obstacle and the tremendous sentiment in favor of the release of the lord mayor has broken down his former determination to let the prisoner carry out his hunger strike to the end.

On the other hand, Sir Hamer Greenwood and other officials of the government in Ireland have threatened to resign if the lord mayor should be released. Then there is the powerful elements led by Sir Edward Carson and by Bonar Law, both of whom are represented as being uncompromising in their stand against letting MacSwiney go free.

So strong, in fact, is the opposition in the ministry to any concession in the case that it is reported that the king has been virtually snubbed and rebuffed for expressing a wish that clemency should be shown the prisoner. One report has it that the king was told that even if he should recommend the release of the lord mayor his wishes would be ignored.

Sec. Colby Acts

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The Irish Progressive league announced here yesterday that Secretary of State Colby had cabled the American consul at Cork for a full report on Patrick Joseph Murphy, hunger strike prisoner in jail there, who is said by the league to be a citizen of the United States.

Murphy was born in Lynn, Mass., in 1891, officials of the league asserted, adding that they had appealed to President Wilson in his behalf. Secretary Colby's cable was said to have been despatched today as a result of this appeal.

A brother of Murphy informed the league of Murphy's American citizenship, it was stated, with the assertion that Murphy so far had been convicted of no crime but was awaiting trial.

Griffith Repudiates Charge

DUBLIN, Sept. 10.—Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein, in a public statement yesterday, repudiates the suggestion of Premier Lloyd George that the charge against Terence MacSwiney related to murder, and cites the actual findings of the court martial.

He denounces as infamous the suggestion that the previous lord mayor (MacCurtain) was killed by his friends and challenges the premier to accept the proposal of the bishop of Cork to establish an impartial tribunal at which evidence convicting government officials of the MacCurtain murder would be produced.

Numerous Dublin houses, including the Curtis Printing Works, were raided by the military yesterday. Copies of portraits of MacSwiney and Archbishop Mannix were removed. Five arrests were made, including Councilor McLoughlin, a prominent member of the corporation.

MacSwiney's Career

Terence J. MacSwiney, the hunger-striking lord mayor of Cork, is the second surviving son of the late John MacSwiney of Kings street, Cork, who died at Melbourne, Australia.

He is the nephew of the late Terence MacSwiney of Patrick street, Cork, and of the late Eugene MacSwiney of Sydney, Australia.

He belongs to one of the oldest Irish families—the MacSwiney family of Crookstown, County Cork.

The father, John, the uncle and the uncles—Terence, Paul, Eugene and Peter—of the present lord mayor of Cork, were all born within a stone's throw of the ancestral castle upon the portion of their land still left to them. Peter and Paul died in the city of Cork, unmarried. One of the sons of Eugene, Captain Terence MacSwiney, distinguished himself by his bravery in France during the late war, winning many honors. He led Australian troops in the allied army, and was so severely wounded that his leg had to be amputated. Before returning to Sydney he visited the family in Cork, and became a special friend of his first cousin and namesake, the present lord mayor.

For many years Lord Bandon has had in his possession the territory on which the ancestral castle stands, but vigilant eyes kept watch over the interests of the absent owners.

Many were the stories told to the rising generation of MacSwineys about grandparents, great-aunts and great-uncles and forebears, lest in the city life they might lose the knowledge of their family history and no longer realize who they were.

So well was the desired and accomplished that the sons were even more filled with the family spirit than their discouraged fathers, and one of the dreams of the young Terence, now suffering in British prison, was to buy back from Lord Bandon at least the portion of the soil on which the ruins of his ancestral castle stood. It is interesting to note that the general elections of 1918, by electing him a member of parliament for County Cork, put his ancestral home to some extent under his protection.

Even as a boy he was remarkable for his patriotic spirit.

He received his education at the Christian Brothers' schools, Cork, where he began the study of the Irish language. He is a graduate of Dublin university. He is both a poet and dramatist. He is married and has one baby girl. His little girl has been taught only Irish. "Later she will learn English as an acquired tongue," the lord mayor has said.

Mrs. Terence MacSwiney attended summer school courses and finished some months in Ballyvaughan, the great centre of revival of the ancient tongue, that she might be able to teach her little one the true mother tongue.

It is interesting to learn that the father of Lord Mayor MacSwiney, the late John MacSwiney, went in his youth to Italy to join the army in defence of the pope, and that the MacSwiney family motto is "Semper Fidelis," "Ever Faithful."

DAMAGE SUIT FILED

Alleging that on Jan. 1, as Sylvester Carter of Wilmington was walking on Middlesex street, Lowell, he was killed by an automobile owned by John E. Burns of Lowell, Chester W. Clark of Wilmington, administrator, filed a suit for $10,000 against Burns yesterday at East Cambridge.

CAUSE OF DEATH

Accident Board Rules Death from Tuberculosis Caused by Injury Within Scope of Law

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Sept. 10.—Death caused by pulmonary tuberculosis, produced by an injury received in the course of employment, is within the scope of the workmen's compensation law, according to a decision just handed down by the industrial accident board, which has awarded $4000 in weekly payments, and an immediate payment of $100, to the widow of a Boston teamster.

According to the testimony before the board, the employe, Patrick Glennon of Roxbury, was a driver for Frank Jones Brewing company. The accident occurred on April 26, 1916. The team in which Glennon was sitting was struck by an automobile truck and he was thrown out, receiving severe internal injuries.

Although Glennon weighed 190 pounds, the injury developed a condition of tuberculosis, from which he died on Nov. 11 of the same year. Efforts of the insurance company which carried the liability of the brewing company under the workmen's compensation law to show that the cause of death was not tuberculosis but cancer or cirrhosis of the liver proved unavailing, although Dr. Timothy Leary, medical examiner for Suffolk county, was called in as an expert by the company, and testified that in his opinion death could not have been produced by tuberculosis in Glennon's case.

Dr. Cadis Phipps, the impartial physician employed by the board, gave it as his opinion that tuberculosis due to the injury which the employe received was the cause of death, and Frank J. Donahue, the board member who sat in the case, so ruled.

Wall Paper Talks

The use of Cut Out borders has gradually grown until now nearly every paper we sell has a cut out border going with it. Practically the only exception to this is tapestry papers. Because they are generally so well covered with design a border does not show up on them.

On a plain paper such as a grass cloth or an oatmeal, a cut-out border is the making of a room from a decorative point of view. On a chamber paper, either a stripe or an all-over effect, the cut-out border adds immeasurably to the room.

We have a very nice way of showing our cut out borders and are always glad to help you in your choice.

EMPLOYEES HAVE VOICE IN STORE MANAGEMENT

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The republican form of government for employees, introduced in certain industrial plants throughout the country, has been adopted by a large New York department store.

Employees of this store, numbering 1,700, have a voice in virtually all matters affecting their relations with the management, through elective bodies modeled after bicameral systems of representation prevailing in the government of the United States.

The employees elect members of their house of representatives and senate directly, while the executive department, consisting of a cabinet of five, is named by the corporation officials. The judicial functions are carried out by a joint justice committee from the legislative bodies. All branches of the store government derive their powers from a constitution somewhat similar to the constitution of the nation.

The fixing of wage scales and working conditions are included in the broad powers of the house and senate, while the justice committee may bring about the expulsion of an employee from the concern, or if they find a worker has been unjustly discharged, they can have him reinstated. The acts of the legislature may be vetoed by the cabinet, but this has not been necessary as yet, it was said by officials of the concern.

Improvement of the service rendered by the store to its customers is the aim of much of the legislation enacted by the workers, but the bettering of the morale of the force of employees also brings many bills to the floor of the house and senate, which convene one day each week.

Recently a bill providing for the installation of a motion picture machine to provide "movies" in the building was passed and the management is to spend $5,000 a year in carrying out its provisions. Another act provided for the location and installation of new individual lockers in the basement where employees might hang their coats and hats.

Passing much of the responsibility for the conduct of the institution onto the shoulders of the employees has brought about many improvements, most of them originating in suggestions which are made to the suggestion committee of the house and senate at the rate of more than 50 a week. Employees are paid cash prizes for all suggestions put into use and no suggestion is rejected until an investigation has been made by the committee.

An increase in the earning power of each employee is one of the purposes of the new store government and economy dividends are paid on the saving in the percentage of operating expense. A merit system has been inaugurated by the workers, grades for each employee being made out monthly on a basis of their ability, experience and co-operative work. An average grade is reached by balancing those turned in for all workers by their direct superiors—floor managers, buyers, assistant buyers and department heads. Salaries go up along with the ratings and promotions also are based on merit.

The house of representatives membership is elected directly by all of the workers except department heads and their assistants. These two groups elect the senators of whom there are 14 compared with 15 representatives. Half the membership of each body changes semi-annually, the five standing committees from each body include those on justice, co-operation, economy and service.

As soon as this industrial democracy plan has gone beyond its infancy, its originators hope to take the public into the organization in some way. Already observance of the wishes of customers by employees has resulted in bills directed toward making shopping more pleasant and suggestions for other changes are expected to come from outside the store after the government grows beyond the embryonic stage.

ASKS CLEMENCY FOR MacSWINEY

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—The following cablegram was sent yesterday to the British prime minister:

David Lloyd George, Downing Street, London, England:

The Boston Post, a newspaper published in Boston with the largest morning circulation in America, very respectfully urges you to procure pardons for Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, and other political prisoners now on desperate hunger strikes in jails of Ireland and England.

Even if such act of clemency were accompanied by the positive announcement that no further pardons would be granted under like circumstances, it would nevertheless be like pouring oil on angry waters.

The MacSwiney case in particular has attracted world-wide attention, and aroused the sympathy of millions, who, though they may know little of the merits of the case, recognize that here is a man deliberately sacrificing his life for an ideal.

The interest in this matter in Boston, and the United States generally, is intense, and the policy of clemency on the part of your government would meet with widespread approval.

EDWIN A. GROZIER,
Editor Boston Post.

BIG WELCOME FOR DE VALERA IN HUB

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—Thousands of local Irishmen and women of Irish descent will turn out tomorrow and Sunday to welcome and pay honor to Eamonn De Valera, president of the Irish republic, and Mrs. De Valera. Present conditions in Ireland have aroused to the highest possible pitch the national feeling, and the demonstration is expected to surpass that given the president a year ago last June.

President and Mrs. DeValera will be met at the South station at 5 o'clock on their arrival from New York, and immediately escorted to the Coppley Plaza. On Sunday there is to be a monster mass meeting in Mechanics building, and to accommodate the hordes who hope to hear President De Valera an overflow meeting will be held outside the building, and still another on the common if the plans of the committee in charge are carried out.

A striking feature of the reception, the big parade, and in fact throughout the three days' stay of the De Valeras in Boston, will be the guard of honor of world war veterans, who will never leave the side of the president.

CUMMINGS URGES LEAGUE

Get Away From Doctrine of Isolation and Get Into League With All Forces and Will.

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 10.—In an address here yesterday, Homer S. Cummings, former chairman of the democratic national committee and chairman of the San Francisco convention, said that the spirit that controls America today is the spirit that will ensure that this country will set the example for other nations, we must get away from the spirit of partisanship and break away from the doctrine of isolation by going into the world affairs with all our force and will.

The League of Nations, he said, was the promise born of the war that the world would never again be embroiled in battle array.

BIG CHELSEA RAID

Moonshine Whiskey and Sugar Mash Valued at $5000 Seized by Dry Agents.

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—Federal prohibition agents and the Chelsea police early last evening raided the storehouse of White Brothers, wholesale sugar dealers, at 153 Spruce street, Chelsea, and seized moonshine whiskey and sugar mash valued at $5000. It was the largest raid ever made in Chelsea.

The officers arrested Michael Chenozzi, 30 years old, of 15 Fifth street, Chelsea, a laborer, who was charged with operating the stills. Two 10-gallon stills were seized by the officers. The moonshine taken was said to be approximately 300 gallons, and there were also 610 gallons of mash.

The Greeks used to decorate the graves of their women with purple iris.

UNARMED POSSE GETS YEGGMAN

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 10.—"Two o'clock in the morning courage" had a good demonstration in North Dartmouth early today, when a hastily organized posse of milk wagon drivers and farmers cornered a yeggmán who was preparing to blow the safe in the postoffice, located in Jacobson Brothers' store.

With the exception of a little 22-calibre revolver, the attacking party had only sticks for weapons, but they camouflaged the situation by calling to each other, such commands as, "Drop him when he comes out the door," the effect being that the yeggmán surrendered to Jacobson and Thurston Jacobson, when they entered by a side door. The prisoner, who gave his name as Charles E. Drew, swore bitterly when he saw the sticks that had been masquerading as guns.

A complete set of safe-blowing tools was found in the store, together with a tube of nitro-glycerine paste and some gunpowder.

After his arrest it was learned that Drew was recently released from the Atlanta federal penitentiary where he served a 10-year term for robbing postoffices in Connecticut. Drew admitted to Raymond Chase, finger print expert of the New Bedford police, that he had been a trusty there and had served his full time. This admission came during the operation of obtaining his finger prints which have been sent to Boston for further identification.

COAL SHORTAGE IN PORTUGAL

LISBON, Sept. 10.—A coal shortage is being keenly felt in Portugal owing to the prohibition of coal exportation from England and the absence of any good coal producing districts in this country.

All coal for industries was imported chiefly from Cardiff and Newcastle and since that has ceased and orders placed in the United States have been cancelled, the situation threatens to become serious and people are looking forward with alarm to the coming winter. Abnormal conditions exist as a result, all restaurants, cafes and places of amusement must close promptly at midnight and external illuminations are prohibited.

There is but little coal produced in Portugal, which has been entirely dependent on imported coal. For domestic purposes charcoal is chiefly used all over the country in small earthenware stoves specially made for its use. Now, however, even that has disappeared as the price of fuel rose to such an extent that the government was obliged to enforce fixed prices. In consequence, although there is plenty of charcoal, farmers are not sending it to the market, hoping to obtain ever increasing prices for wood.

In the mean time all Portugal is suffering from utter absence of coal and people are obliged to buy wood when it is obtainable. Middleclass and poor people burn sawdust in small iron stoves expressly invented during the war for that purpose and also use impervious boxes lined with straw, that finish cooking the food, after it is removed, boiling, from the stove. Many families unable to cook at home are having their meals at the restaurant.

SHORTAGE OF HOUSES

Federal and Municipal Governments Act to Bring Relief in Rio de Janeiro.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 10.—Both federal and municipal governments are about to take action to relieve the shortage of houses here.

In the chamber of deputies a bill has been introduced providing for a special bond issue of $30,000,000 for the construction of houses for working families. In the municipal council a measure was presented providing that all workers' houses built in the next two years be free from the usual municipal taxes.

The federal bill proposes the construction, under the municipal administration, of 20,000 houses in various districts of the capital wherever nationally or municipally owned ground is available. It is intended that the houses shall be sold to heads of working families, payment being spread over a period of 20 years. In addition, the bill provides for the construction of two huge apartment houses for families and for bachelors, respectively, with common kitchens and other communal installations, the rent being placed at a very low figure.

Blackingtons Worsted

of North Adams, Mass.

These goods bought last week direct from the commission house of Rubin & Cooper, 65 Chauncey street, Boston, lower in price than anything I have seen in four years, lower in price than any buyer of woollens can purchase them a month from today. No other tailor or clothier in New England today can talk about an all wool worsted suiting under $45 and I contend these fabrics compare very favorably for quality of merchandise with the suit around $50 to $55. For a limited time I offer you three styles—a beautiful shade of dark green, a very conservative shade of fancy brown and a wonderful shade of dark blue.

Incidental to this sale, I also wish to formally invite my customers and the general public to visit and see the new styles that the fashion experts and leading designers declare correct and proper for this season. No use of my going into detail and trying to picture in fervid language how handsome they are. You will have to see them to realize their beauty.

NO OBLIGATION TO BUY—Just walk in, look them over yourself and if you feel interested in any particular style, call a salesman and he will be glad to give you any information you may desire.

JOSEPHINE
IMMORDINO

MOTHER MUST WIN GIRL'S LOVE IN 30 DAYS

BROOKLYN—Justice Squiers, of the Brooklyn supreme court, has given Mrs. Mary Immordino 30 days to win the affection of her 15-year-old daughter, Josephine. The girl has lived with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Garrali, for 10 years, since the death of her father. She wants to stay with them, while the mother wants her to come home. In court, recently, she said she owed everything to her uncle and aunt, and that she didn't care to go to her mother. The court ruled that if the girl showed no more love for her mother in 30 days, he could do nothing.

Sleep Like a Top

There is nothing so essential to good health as good sound, refreshing sleep. This you can not get if your stomach, liver or kidneys are out of order. It's an easy matter to keep these important organs in good condition if, when they are not working properly, you will take for a few days from 10 to 20 drops of SEVEN BARKS in a little water after each meal. It is a safe and remarkable remedy, scientifically blended from the extracts of roots and herbs, and has stood the test for nearly half a century.

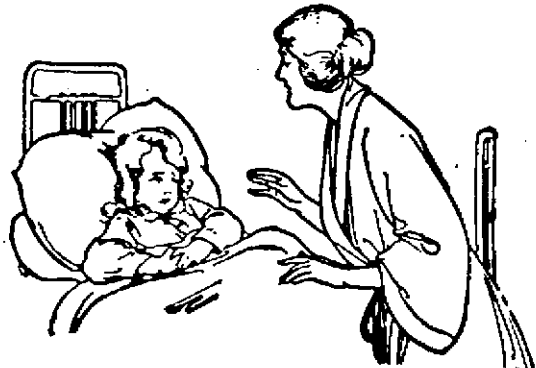

If you want to "sleep like a top," as the old saying goes, you must take good care of your health.

SEVEN BARKS comes direct from Nature, and is a most valuable remedy in the home treatment of chronic disorders, such as indigestion, constipation, rheumatism, liver, kidney and stomach troubles. As a tonic and general corrective SEVEN BARKS is without an equal, and should be in every home. It is Nature's way of supplying tone and strength and overcoming disease.

Sleepless nights will cause you to get up in the morning, tired and unrefreshed, with a dull, heavy head, dependent, etc.—these are symptoms of deranged stomach, an inactive liver and kidneys. SEVEN BARKS will help remove the cause of these troubles. It acts gently and safely, but very efficiently. At druggists. Price 60 cents. —Adv.

EXPECT NEW RECORDS

Plans for National Balloon Race and International Contests Completed by Aero Club.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The national balloon race scheduled to start from Birmingham, Ala., this month and the international contest for balloonists to start from the same city in October are expected by Aero club officials in charge of the races to set new records. This hope is based upon the greater gas capacity of the balloons and lessons of construction learned in the war.

The national event, due to start September 25, will see 15 contenders lined up, each aspiring to be one of three who will defend the Gordon Bennett cup, which has been in America since being lifted from France in 1913 by Ralph Upson, of Akron, Ohio. Upson, present international title holder, made his entry as soon as the race was announced. Three bags have been entered by the Army Air Service, one by the navy, and another by the Army Balloon school, Fort Omaha. The other 10 balloons have been entered by civilians. The entry of the balloon school will be piloted by A. Leo Stevens, who, with Professor David Todd, of Amherst college, won fame last spring by an attempt to pick up radio-electric waves from Mars through a receiving station 30,000 feet above the earth.

The second race, which is to start October 23, will be the fourth occasion on which the United States has defended the Gordon Bennett international trophy since its foundation in 1906. The entries, six in all, are: Italy, two; United States, three; and Belgium, one.

Although America is the title holder by virtue of winning the last race, France has an unbeaten record for distance, made in 1912 when Maurice Biegalme covered 1,351 miles without touching land, besting the American record of 1,172 miles set in 1910 by Alan R. Hawley.

The balloon "Belgica" of 2,000 cubic meters capacity, has been entered by the Aero club of Belgium. It will be piloted by Ernest Demuyter, who contested in the race of 1912.

Some motorists have a mistaken idea that there will be greater efficiency in supplying current to the ignition coils from more than the requisite 5 or 6 dry cells, connected in series. Such action may result in burning out the condenser and consequent ruin of the coil.

Washing Won't Rid
Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

KING'S SON PRISONER OF SINN FEINERS

LONDON, Sept. 10.—That Prince George, the king's youngest son, was Monday night a prisoner of Sinn Feiners for several hours became known yesterday.

Balmoral castle, where the royal family is spending its vacation, was in an uproar, and the kidnapping is still a mystery to the big detail of Scotland yard sleuths, who are here on guard. Three masked men captured the prince and a man servant while they were returning from a fishing expedition about 9.30 o'clock and hurried them to an empty cottage on the outskirts of Balmoral woods, where the two were locked up.

It was several hours later when the castle realized that the prince was missing. The king and queen organized a searching party of castle servants and aroused the royal guards and the London detectives. The entire neighborhood was thoroughly searched and the two prisoners finally discovered in darkness in the cottage.

"This is but the beginning of the end if MacSwiney dies," was scrawled on a paper left by the kidnapers, who had disappeared without attempting to harm the prince.

The royal family is much disturbed fearing that the kidnapping was the work of Irish sympathizers among the servants in the castle and that they might be able to keep the threat contained in the note if MacSwiney should die. Others feel it was but a rough practical joke of Irish sympathizers, which will not be followed up. The Scotland Yard men, however, are silent on the matter.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Directors Will Discuss City Charter Question—Major Wildman To Be Guest at Luncheon.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce next Monday at noon there will be an informal discussion of the part that the chamber is to play, if any, in the effort that is being made by the chamber commission to provide a more satisfactory city charter.

Major Wildman, in charge of the United States army recruiting corps now in Lowell, will be a guest at luncheon at the meeting of the directors.

It is expected that representatives of the chamber will undertake in the near future to arrange for a conference with the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway regarding the re-routing of car lines in the business centre of the city.

Judging from the number of inquiries regarding the desirability of making investments in German marks received at the chamber the bottom has practically dropped out of the market for the German securities as sources of get rich quick wealth insofar as this city is concerned. Inquiries regarding the reliability of other securities continue to be received in considerable numbers.

The opinion of readers as to the acceptance of the money is asked by the newspaper which publishes the admission on its first page under glaring headlines.

Last month, charges that the Russian soviet government was subsidizing newspapers in other countries for the purpose of carrying on propaganda were published here, and the Herald was named as one journal which had received money from the Bolsheviks.

The newspaper reports to the soviet funds as "a magnificent demonstration of real working class solidarity and of what Russians mean by internationalism."

"To accept it," says the Herald, will be to complete a notable episode in international socialism. The increasing cost of production and the political shyness of advertisers makes it necessary for us at once to double the price of this paper, if this money is not accepted."

Duveltyne Spells Autumn in Millinery

It is an interesting showing of the smartest of the first new hats for fall. Hats of duveltyne in brown and red shades, such as pheasant, copper, mahogany, chow, nigger brown, also hydro and royal blues, navy, rose, jade, etc.

The clever, new shapes, include small and medium chin chin effects, irregular line models, rolled brim affairs, sailors and soft draped turbans in various styles.

Some of these hats are combined with silk or velvet. Some are combined with gold, silver or copper threads or chenille, and leather is occasionally used by way of inserts in appliqued and conventional designs, $7.50, $10, $12, $12.98

New Fall Suits Seem Lovelier Than Ever

Coat lengths in these new modes vary from 30 inch to three-quarter lengths, according to the suit style. Graceful straight line effects are to be the favorite for women; while misses may choose between new and different ripple effects and nobby straight line box coats. One of the new features in modes for younger women is the large cape collars of self material—very smart.

Brown in its hosts of different shades promises to be the leading color. Here are selections at $39.50, $45, $49.50, $69.50.

TURKS BESIEGE TARSUS

Birthplace of St. Paul, 20 Miles From Adana, Under Fire—Food Scarce

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 9.—(By Associated Press)—Tarsus, the birthplace of St. Paul, 20 miles southwest of Adana, is being besieged by the Turks and the French garrison and the 25,000 inhabitants of the place are short of food, according to a letter received here from Prof. Paul Nilsen, who is in charge of St. Paul's institute there.

The Turks are fighting from the shelter of big orange groves on the plain surrounding the city, relying on their rifle fire to hold the French garrison within the walls. The French are making every effort to save the pretty, clean white walled town. Airplanes drop letters in the streets, but are unable to alight because there is no room for a landing place in the city. A French column which attempted to relieve the garrison met a reverse in the village of Saca Ibrahim while marching from Mersin, a seaport 20 miles away to the northeast.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Annual Election of Officers Held Last Evening—Committee Report on Arrangements for Ladies' Day

The main business of the meeting of the Lowell council, 72 Knights of Columbus, held last night, was the annual election of officers, which was followed by the reports of the committee in charge of arrangements for ladies' day to be held next Sunday at the Genoa club grounds in Tyngsboro and by the appointment of a committee of 10 to plan for the celebration of Columbus day, October 12.

The election of officers resulted as follows: George F. Briggan, grand knight; John E. Hart, deputy grand knight; Hugh J. Molloy, chancellor; Thomas E. Delany, warden; Philip Breen, financial secretary; Patrick J. Nevin, recording secretary; Thomas J. Fitzgerald, treasurer; James E. Markham, advocate; Frank J. Brennan, inside guard; Daniel P. Brennan, outside guard; James J. Molloy, trustee for three years; William Thornton, delegate to the state convention; Andrew Molloy, first alternate; John H. McNabb, second alternate.

It was reported that Ladies' day, next Sunday, would be similar to a basket picnic and that members and their families and friends are invited. A special program for the day has been arranged.

The Columbus Day celebration will consist of attending mass at St. Peter's church in the morning and a banquet in the evening to be open to friends of members.

If your skin itches and burns, just use Resinol

If you are suffering from eczema, ringworm or similar itching, burning, unsightly skin affection, bathe the sore places with Resinol Soap and hot water, then gently apply a little Resinol Ointment. You will probably be astonished how instantly the itching stops and healing begins. In most cases the sick skin quickly becomes clear and healthy again, at very little cost.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap also clear away pimples, redness, roughness and dandruff. Sold by all druggists.

To Keep Hair Curly, Wavy and Beautiful

Here is how your hair can be curled nicely, easily and harmlessly. Before doing it up, apply a little liquid salamine with a clean tooth brush. In three hours you will have just the prettiest curls and waves—and they will look and feel so natural you'll never think of doing without salamine thereafter. You won't be troubled any more with hair stringing around your face—with burnt, uneven ends, nor with dull, dead appearance. The hair will remain in curl ever so long. Any druggist can of course supply you with liquid salamine, and a few minutes will last you a long time. It is neither sticky nor greasy, and is really a delightful thing to use. It is doubly useful because of also serving as a beneficial dressing for the hair.—Adv.

Real Estate For Sale

On Thursday of last week the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company sold its last horse. Their vehicle equipment is now entirely motorized and the stable at the Braut Noy Yard has been closed. This entire property is for sale. The property consists of 75,000 sq. ft. of land with buildings thereon formerly used for the storage of cars and a stable with ten stalls. The property has a frontage of over 200 ft. on Lakeview ave., and an entrance from Pleasant st. The lumber pile in these buildings is worth over $10,000 and in the rear is a large two-tenement house. This would be a desirable property for manufacturing or storage purposes and on account of its convenient location to the Merrimack Woolen Co. it would make a desirable location for the construction of tenement property. Inquiries should be made of or addressed to THOMAS LEE, Manager, Lowell District, Tel. 4030.

FLUME INDEPENDENT

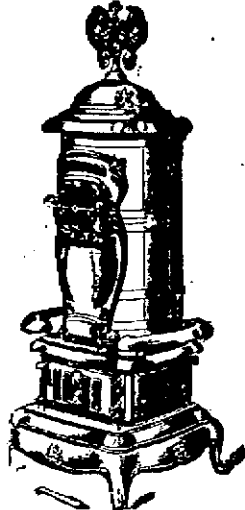

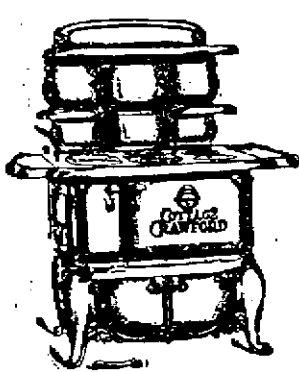

Gabriele D'Annunzio Issues Proclamation Following Private News From Paris

FLUME, Sept. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Gabriele D'Annunzio yesterday proclaimed Flume an independent state.

D'Annunzio declared he had received private news from Paris which forced him to declare Flume to be independent yesterday and that he would not wait until Sept. 12, as he had intended. The national council has resigned, the resignation being due to the fact that the council was unable to agree with D'Annunzio's new constitution for an independent state.

D'Annunzio despite the resignation of the council is continuing to make preparations for the program of festivities in honor of his proclamation of the independence of Flume.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Captain Gabriele D'Annunzio, who yesterday proclaimed the "Italian republic of Quarnero" has summoned a constituent assembly to meet in six weeks, says a dispatch to the London Times. The d'Annunzian troops have taken the oath of fealty to the new republic, it is said.

PRICE OF COAL DROPS

Soft Coal Now $7 a Ton—

Drop of $5 a Ton in Two Weeks—To Be Lower

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—Soft coal prices have taken a sharp decline and no one in New England need pay more than $7 per ton for the fuel, which only two weeks ago cost from $10 to $12 a ton, according to George H. Cushing, director of the American Wholesale Dealers' association. Cushing promises still lower prices by Dec. 1.

The priority order situation affecting the New England and Great Lakes districts has developed a very "ragged" coal market. Purchasers in these sections have their coal brought right to their doors, Director Cushing avers. Trade prices all over the country are governed to a large extent by prices paid in the priority sections.

WALTHAM FAIR

The first annual exhibit of the Waltham fair for Middlesex county, conducted with the co-operation of the Middlesex county bureau of agriculture and home economics, is now being held in Waltham. The affair opened yesterday, continued through today and will close tomorrow afternoon. The program provides for displays of cattle, swine, sheep, agriculture, poultry, boys' and girls' exhibits, home economics and also for sport and horse shows and races.

VOLCANIC OUTBREAK FOLLOWS EARTHQUAKE

ROME, Sept. 10.—A volcanic crater has suddenly opened at the top of Pizzo d'Uccello, a mountain 8815 feet high about nine miles northeast of Spezia. It is located on what appears to be the northwest corner of the district shaken by Tuesday morning's earthquake, which resulted in the loss of hundreds of lives in the region just north of Florence. A telegram from Spezia states the crater is emitting smoke and sulphuric fumes, and that scientists there attribute the outbreak to the earthquake.

The shock which devastated scores of little towns and villages north of Florence seems to have followed the line of the mountains. This is common to earthquakes in Italy. Scientists say that intervals of years between quakes represent only minutes and seconds in geologic time.

Reports from northern Italy have given no further details of the situation nor have they told of the damage done by the tremor which shook the Emilia district, between the Apennines and the River Po, yesterday morning. First reports stated the shock was more severe than that which destroyed Fivizzano and other towns north of Florence.

Cause of Quake

BERLIN, Sept. 9.—The seismographic station at Jena suggests as the possible cause of the Italian earthquake a sinking of the earth along the mountain bordering the Gulf of Genoa. Experts there say it indicates a massive caving zone in the earth's crust.

LICENSES REVOKED

Operators' Licenses of Automobileists Involved in Fatal Accidents Revoked by Registrar of Motor Vehicles (Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Sept. 10.—Revocation of the operators' licenses of the automobileists who were involved in a fatal automobile accident which occurred last July and resulted in the death of Martin Torjigan of Lowell, has been announced by Frank A. Goodwin, registrar of motor vehicles.

One of the licenses revoked is that of Francis E. Bach of Wakefield, who was driving the motor of the Italian car involved in the accident. The other is that of Elizabeth M. Torjigan of Lowell, who was not driving, but who was in the car at the time of the accident. The accident was being driven by an unlicensed person. This made her technically responsible for its control, and because the registrar was unable to find that the accident occurred without fault on the part of the operator, it was necessary to revoke her license.

Another license revoked by the registrar is that of Justin B. Jenkins of Westford, who on July 13 was involved in an accident which resulted in the death of Alice Corio of Lowell. Registrar Goodwin states in his order of revocation that he is unable to find that the accident occurred without serious fault on the part of the operator.

Herbert F. Ross of Chelmsford is still another who has lost his license for the same reason. His accident occurred July 5, and resulted in the death of Ladislaw Valsevsky of Lowell.

NURSE SUES FOR $20,000

Charges Five-Year-Old Boy Gave Her "Vicious Kick in the Stomach" on Christmas Day

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—A "vicious kick in the stomach" which she charges was administered on Christmas Day, five years ago by Gustave Barnett, Jr., then five years old, was given here yesterday by Miss Martha Lewis, nurse, as the basis for two $10,000 damage suits filed against the boy and his mother.

She blames the mother for carelessness in not teaching her son to conduct himself properly, and in not warning her, when she was employed, of "his evil and vicious propensities."

First Move in Charter Work

I should like to present my views for your consideration at a later meeting."

Commission Form a Failure

Representative Thomas J. Corbett was the next speaker.

"I do not feel," he stated, "that the present commission form of government in Lowell has been a success. I believe that the commission is entitled to some form of assurance from members of the Lowell delegation in the legislature that they will co-operate in pushing the work of the commission to a successful conclusion. If there should be something in the charter as proposed by the commission that I cannot subscribe to, the place for me to make the fact known is here and not in the legislature."

"The voters of the city have already expressed their favorable opinion of the Plan B charter by casting 6000 votes for it; only about 400 less than the number necessary to secure its adoption. This shows that the voters favor a change."

"I should like to have the charter that I prepared and presented to the legislature in 1919 considered by the commission. Later I should like to be heard in regard to it."

"If we go before the legislature with the united support of the Lowell delegation, there is no question but that any charter proposed by the commission will be promptly passed by the general court."

Pearson in the Dark

Senator Pearson was next called upon by the chairman. It seemed that he was not familiar with the work of the commission.

"Is the commission beginning or ending its work?" he asked.

"It is beginning," said Chairman Casey.

"I thought you said you had a report ready."

"No, we are not moving quite so swiftly as that."

Senator Pearson said he thought the commission should secure information from other cities. He said that he was in agreement with the statement that the present form of municipal government was not a success. He said that he did not think that Lowell's problems were different from those of other cities and that he should like to know what is being done elsewhere.

Representative Charles H. Stowey, the next speaker, said that he did not feel like pledging himself in advance to acceptance of the work of the commission, but that he would like to be heard later.

Representative Owen E. Brennan said that he would like to appear at a later meeting of the commission and express his views.

Representative Adelard Berard stated that he was going to look up the charters of some other cities and that later he should like to be present and help the commission with its work.

Hearty Support Pledged

Harry W. Leavitt, republican nominee from the 14th district, said that whatever decision the commission might arrive at, if he were elected to the legislature, it would have his hearty support.

Chairman Casey thanked the legislators for their expressions of opinion and assured them that the members of the commission would be glad to hear from them again at a later date. In answer to an inquiry by the chairman, Representative Jewett expressed the opinion that it would be possible to have incorporated in a charter act a provision under which the voters could express an opinion upon it next spring.

It was voted that Mayor Thompson, Superintendent of Police Welch and members of the board of health be present at the next meeting of the commission to answer questions.

Commissioner O'Donnell expressed a desire that a stenographer be present to take down what the mayor and commissioners might say before the commission.

"Are we going to drift around and arrive nowhere when these men come before us?" he asked. "We should have some line of questions prepared in advance."

Chairman Casey—"I don't see how we can get a set of questions outlined. There will be a general discussion in which every member will be entitled to ask questions."

No Muzzling
Commissioner Blattery said that he wanted it understood that every head of a department had a right to appear before the commission and express his views and that he should not feel that he would be subjected to unpleasant treatment by his superior if he did so.

Chairman Casey—"I don't believe that any head of a department will escape being asked as to how his department is functioning and as to whether there is co-operation in it and with other departments. They will be asked to reveal weak points

Commissioner Sanford wanted some historical light shed on the proceedings. He called upon the two former mayors who are members of the commission for information and reminiscences.

Neither materialized immediately. Clerk Campbell stated that as members of the legislature had expressed a desire to address the commission at a later date, dates not too far away in the future should be decided upon.

Corbett Has Charter
Representative Jewett—"I am prepared to be present at any time and give the commission my views on a new charter."

Representative Corbett—"I have presented to each member of the commission a copy of the charter that I prepared two years ago. I should like to have the members of the commission study it. If, after having done so, they disagree with anything in my work, I should like to have a chance to come before the commission and explain."

Commissioner O'Donnell—"I have no hesitation in saying that I believe there are many serious faults in the present form of government. Unless the present charter is to be the basis of a new charter that we are to formulate, why should we spend time discussing its faults? You would not expect me to waste time suggesting amendments to the present charter if we are to discard it altogether."

Not Scientific

"Five men sitting together, as at present, and making appropriations is not a scientific way of doing things. Each man has always tried to get as much money as possible for his own department. It is radically wrong that money should be appropriated by the men who are to spend it."

Chairman Casey said that he hoped the work of the commission would have educational value in presenting to the people information as to ways in which the government of the city works. "If we accomplish nothing else," he said, "our work will have been worth while." He urged the members to be present at all of the meetings and said that the work of the commission should not be shouldered onto three or four men.

"Why did we change from the old two-chamber form of government?" asked Commissioner Sanford.

Chairman Casey—"From my point of view the old form of government was a very good one. The change was made because we thought we should get better men. We haven't. There was one very valuable feature of the old form—it gave publicity to the acts of the government." The chairman said he believed that the mayor should have more power, and that at the present time three members of the municipal council—the mayor, not the government. He mentioned the possible desirability of having a single chamber of nine or 15 members, and said that such a chamber would assure greater publicity. He said he believed that the old form of government was more democratic than the present. "In the end it all gets down to a question of men," he said.

The meeting adjourned to next Tuesday evening when the mayor and heads of departments under his supervision will be grilled for information.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Registration at School in Broadway Reported to Be Double That of Last Year.

According to the report from the office of the Lowell Vocational School in Broadway, registration this year is about double that of last year. Wednesday last was the opening date for registering at the school, and on the first day the applicants at the school kept the clerk very busy. It is the custom to register students numbering more than the capacity of the school, because before the completion of the fall term many drop out and yield their places to boys better fitted and desirous to take up the work.

Out of the number of courses offered at the boys' school preference is shown for those in automobile repairing and electrical work. Last year there were eight vocational training at the school at the expense of the government and this year there will be two.

MRS. CHARLES PEDEN

GAINED 27 POUNDS

Was Twice Examined and Each Time Told That An Operation Would Be Her Only Hope.

"I have just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and have gained twenty-seven pounds," was the truly remarkable statement made by Mrs. Charles Peden, residing at 550 Mill St., Haverhill, Mass. Mrs. Peden is one of the best known and most highly respected women of that city where she has made her home for a number of years.

"When I commenced taking the medicine," she continued, "I only weighed ninety-eight (98) pounds; now I weigh one hundred twenty-five pounds and never felt better in my life. For years I have suffered with a bad form of stomach trouble, constipation and pains in my side and back. At times the pains took the form of torture and I was twice examined and each time told that an operation would be my only hope. I had fallen off until I only weighed ninety-eight pounds and was so weak I could hardly get around."

"I had no appetite scarcely at all, and what little I did eat would cause gas to form in my stomach which gave me palpitation of the heart, sick headaches and a dizzy feeling about the head. When those spells came on me, I would get awfully nervous. I worried about myself until I could rest and sleep but little."

"I had fallen off until I was almost 'skin and bones' and my strength and energy were slowly leaving me. I had a dread of the future and could see nothing but the operating table and knife. I had a perfect horror of an operation, but had made up my mind that it was either life or death and prepared to submit to it. I had made all preparations for the operation and called on my sister to tell her goodbye, as I did not know whether I would live to see her again or not. My sister begged and pleaded with me not to allow them to cut me and told me to wait and try a good tonic for a while. The next day as I returned from the consultation room I thought of what she said, and as I had heard so much about Tanlac, I decided to try it as a last resort, and stopped at the drug store and got a bottle. Of course, I had lost heart and had no faith in medicine, but to please my sister, I made up my mind to take it, and oh, what a happy day that was for me!"

"I never returned for the operation, but just kept taking Tanlac and my improvement has been so rapid that none of my clothes fit me. Right from the start I began to improve. The medicine seemed to take hold right at once. It had a soothing effect, and in a few days I felt no pain at all. I was so happy over my wonderful improvement that I sent for my neighbors to tell them how much better I felt. I sent and got another bottle of Tanlac and have just finished my third and feel like I have been made over again into a new woman."

"As I have said before, I now weigh one-hundred twenty-five pounds and none of my clothes are big enough for me, and I will have to make them over again. I now have a ravenous appetite and my husband says I am simply eating him out of house and home. I have even come back to my coffee which I was told not to touch. Those horrible pains in my back and head have all disappeared and I sleep like a child. I am no longer nervous, and when I get up in the mornings I feel refreshed, cheerful and bright. I am now able to attend to my housework again and I feel as if I had started life all over. My husband is highly delighted and my recovery is the talk of the neighborhood. I do nothing but rejoice all day long over the recovery of my health and praise Tanlac to everybody."

"I feel so grateful for my escape from the operating table and the knife that you may publish what I have said; you may if you wish, tell other women suffering as I was to come and see me and I will be glad to tell them about my case."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Greens Drug Store, Merrimack square, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

ACCUSES HARDING OF "HYPOCRISY"

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The democratic national committee yesterday issued statements here characterizing as "hypocrisy" Senator Harding's statement in his St. Paul speech that he favored a "Farm loan act."

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the democratic speaker's bureau, issued the statement here which read:

"Harding knows that the act, passed by a democratic congress, is not functioning today because a republican congress in its closing hours of its last session failed to pass legislation proposed by a democrat for its continuance."

"This act was attacked by mortgage companies and declared unconstitutional by the courts. Then, while the case was pending in the supreme court, the republican party including Harding, refused to co-operate with democratic members of the house and senate to enact proposed amendments."

"Harding's present attitude is one of bold effrontery—preaching in favor of a measure which he had attacked in the senate."

Catarrh
Of The Stomach
Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician.
Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion—How To Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furred, coated tongue, bad breath, sour, burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," warned a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition soon breeds deadly disease in the fermented, unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bismarck Magnesia in half a glass of water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucous lining of the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach, while the Bismarck Magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucous and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover the Bismarck Magnesia will serve as a powerful but harmless antacid which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and sweeten its food contents. Easy, natural digestion without distress of any kind should soon follow. Bismarck Magnesia is not a laxative, is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bismarck Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milks, citrates, etc. (powder or tablets), especially prepared for this purpose. Liggett's Bismarck Magnesia Drug Stores and other leading druggists.—Adv.

Good Care and Red Pills

I was totally worn-out through hard work, and internal disorders also added to my sufferings, so that I was a very miserable woman indeed. As I was very anxious to get strong and well again, I started to take RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and obtained the desired results from their regular use, as I recovered my strength and all my pains and aches gradually disappeared. After a couple of months I began to take on flesh, and now enjoy the best of health.—Mrs. J. Bernier, 167 Park St., Manville, R.I.

RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women are an invaluable remedy to women who are troubled with headaches, backaches, pains in the side, heaviness, general debility, etc. If women take good care of themselves, and take RED PILLS they will not fall victims to that dread disease of women, which is called Anæmia, nor will they be annoyed by the different ailments which go to make a woman's life so miserable.

Women who have to work very hard in their own home or in factories and workshops are really to be pitied, as very often they have to be on their feet all day long, so that the day's work means a continual suffering to them, and when they do get to bed they are so tired that they cannot rest right. That is when they should take RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, which would soon build them up and restore them to good health.

RED PILLS are sold in boxes of 50 pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes, $2.50. If they are not at your merchant's they will be sent to you by mail on receipt of price.—Franco American Chemical Company Limited, 212 Milk Street, Boston.

I had been under the care of a physician for some time, but had obtained no relief whatever, as I was getting weaker every day. I was even unable to sweep an ordinary room unless I sat down and rested several times. I had sore legs, backaches, no appetite, and could not digest the food which I did eat. At last I decided to take RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and after taking two boxes of them, I began to notice a gradual improvement in my state of health. I soon got strong again, enjoyed my food better, and after a few months of this treatment I was enjoying perfect health.—Mrs. Jos. Bourbeau, 157 Cumberland St., Woonsocket, R.I.

COX MAKES PLEDGE TO PRESENT IRISH CAUSE

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 10.—A definite pledge to "present the Irish cause" to the League of Nations, in event of his election, and further attacks on republican leaders and that party's contributions were made here last night by Governor Cox of Ohio in closing his Montana campaign.

In three extensive speeches yesterday, at Helena, Anaconda and Butte, and in a half dozen rear-platform talks en route, the democratic presidential candidate, concluding the first week of his western tour, hammered the league, the republican "corruption fund" and labor issues into his audiences.

Under Article Eleven
The Irish question developed at the governor's meeting here in front of the court house lawn.

"It would be my duty," he said, "and very quickly availed of, as a friend of peace, asserting the friendly right of any member of the league to present the Irish cause to the attention of the League under the authority given by Article 11 and give to Ireland, or any other aggrieved people the opportunity to plead their cause before the bar of civilized opinion."

League Opens Way
The Irish question, Governor Cox said, needs settlement to promote peace between the British speaking races.

Reading Article 11 of the league covenant, providing for consideration by the league council or assembly of any international whatever, which threatens to disturb either the peace or the good understanding between nations," Governor Cox said that under existing conditions, the Irish question could not be presented "to the bar of public opinion."

"Under the league it can," he continued. "I have four times as many people of Gaelic blood in the United States as there are in Ireland and their natural feelings not only figure in our domestic relations but also stand like granite between the stretching hands of England and America. So long, therefore, as the Irish question remains unsettled, there will be some conflict in America with the idea of world wide co-operation between the English speaking nations."

Rights of Small Peoples
"It must not be forgotten that when we took up arms the thing that gave us unity and great enthusiasm was our declaration that we fought to end the rule of might; that we were champions of the rights of small peoples; that we stood for the reign of law based upon the consent of the governed. As I have said before, the league complements enduring peace. There cannot be peace without justice. There will not be peace without justice. You cannot take mountains without rivers, nor other physical characteristics, nor by their natural lines create governmental entities that will endure. On the other hand, racial groups will form a better guarantee of peace. This is not only a fundamental common sense, but it touches the basic principle of the armistice and the league itself."

"Therefore, I contend that the League of Nations would be helpful to the civilization of the world, because it will be creative of a new life, national and otherwise for racial groups, which have for generations fostered the same aims and hopes and aspirations that inspired the founders of our republic."

CONFER ON THE ITALIAN INDUSTRIAL SITUATION

MILAN, Italy, Sept. 10.—Members of the socialist group in the Italian parliament, leaders of the General Confederation of Labor and representatives of the Federation of Metal Workers conferred here today with delegates to the congress of the employers of labor. These interviews and discussions, which occupied the entire day, seemed to reflect a desire on the part of the confederating forces to bring about a compromise which would solve the anomalous industrial situation throughout Italy.

Socialist deputies as well as leaders of the Confederation of Labor, favor a middle course, which may lead to an early settlement, resolving the grave consequences for all that will result from a continuation of the conflict. A section of the metal workers, however, opposes any such move, and wishes, rather, to enlarge the agitation by bringing in other classes of workers. All the contending parties have reported to Signor Lusignea, prefect of this city, who seems to enjoy the confidence of both sides. The prefect has held long interviews with Deputy Olivetti, secretary of the General Confederation of Employers; Prof. Riva of counsel for several industrial unions and Senator Conti leading industrial magnates, trying to convince them it is to their interests to reach a compromise, which, while perhaps unsatisfactory to both sides in all details, will prevent each of the opposing from standing in the place of victor or vanquished.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Those who have been at the B. F. Keith Theatre this week, know what all-star vaudeville is. Every act on the bill has some special claim to eminence, whether it be the Salton Singers, who know how to sing well; Arthur and Morton Havel, who introduce their funny personalities in "Solid Concrete" and "The Great White Trail"; Julia Nash and C. H. O'Donnell in the latter's domestic farce, "Almost Single"; or Red Dooley, a member of the family which has as many representations on the stage as the Dailys ever did. And then there is Margaret Ford, the girl with two voices; Redford and Winchester with their tank juggling act, and Green and Mildred Myra in modern violin playing and dancing. It's a good bill looked at from any angle.

THE STRAND
That big triple-feature bill at The Strand is the talk of the town. Nothing quite as big or more entertaining has been offered in months. You'll say so when you attend one of the remaining performances. Viola Dana in "The Chorus Girl's Romance" and play of the stage, college campus and the "shimmy." Will Rogers in "Jes' Call Me Jim" and Larry Semon in his latest laughmaker, "Solid Concrete" combine in making one of those "bigger and better bills" that is making The Strand standard supreme.

OPERA HOUSE
Milton Byron, the new leading man of the new Lowell Players at the Opera House, is giving a wonderfully clever characterization of the role of the young husband whose wife leaves him and respect is lost temporarily when he changes from his military uniform.

to "Clives." Mr. Byron treats the character in a manner that indicates not alone versatility, but a marked type, but also a satisfying desire to dress the part to perfection, without the slightest desire on his part to emphasize the fact that his is the leading role, and that he is the leading man. He is a lead-man of off-recorded weakness of a lead-man character so that it is most commendable that it may stand out, is most commendable.

THE RIALTO
"The Family Honor," a King Vidor production, had its first presentation at the Rialto Theatre yesterday, and attracted a great deal of attention. It is a story of Southern life at its very best. There is a sweet, romantic strain through it all, with the family placed on a pinnacle where it is adored. There are tense situations, particularly those dealing with small-town politics, and the story of the mayor who played both the best and the worst elements in the town at the same time is splendidly conceived. Larry Semon in "Solid Concrete" evoked roars of laughter with his funny antics. There are other and shorter reels, all making a desirable entertainment as one could wish.

JOHN M. FARRELL Auctioneer
OFFICE, 162 MARKET ST. LOWELL, MASS.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE

Real Estate at Public Auction

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 11th, 1920

WILL BE SOLD IN TWO LOTS, NO. 1 AT THREE O'CLOCK AND NO. 2 AT THREE-THIRTY O'CLOCK, P. M.

By virtue of a license granted by the Probate court I shall sell at public auction in two lots the following described parcels of real estate of the late Mary A. Clark to the person that will bid the highest and comply with the terms of sale.

The property is situated on Middlesex street at the junction of South street, including both corners on South and Middlesex streets.

LOT 1 AT THREE P. M.

Consists of the land and buildings Nos. 158-160-164 and 168 Middlesex street and Nos. 6-10-16 and 26 South street and contains about 8065 square feet of land, more or less, with a frontage of about 60½ feet on Middlesex street and about 136 feet on South street.

Nos. 158-160-164 and 168 Middlesex street and Nos. 6 and 10 South street is a 2½-story building with a brick basement, has two stores and five tenements.

No. 16 South street is a 2½-story building with one store and three tenements.

No. 26 South street is a 2½-story building, has a basement store and three tenements. The whole have a yearly income of $3528, allowing $1800 for the yearly rent for the two vacant stores.

Each parcel has city water, gas and good sewerage and is in good rentable condition. The above three parcels will be sold in one lot.

LOT 2 AT THREE-THIRTY P. M.

Consists of a brick block, Nos. 162-164-166 and 168 Middlesex street, and a 2½-story brick house, Nos. 17 and 19 South street, corner of Spring street, and contains about 5150 square feet of land, more or less, with a frontage of about 48½ feet on Middlesex street and about 103 feet on South street. Nos. 162-164-166 and 168 Middlesex street has three stores on Middlesex street and one store, No. 17 South street, also 14 tenements. Nos. 17 and 19 South street has two tenements. The whole have a yearly rental of $2103. Has city water, gas and good sewerage.

There are fire escapes on the rear of the block facing Middlesex street leading to a back passage-way. This property has always rented well to good tenants.

Here are two corner parcels of real estate that are offered at public auction to the highest bidder without limit. It will be a long time before an opportunity of this kind will present itself again to the public, two corner pieces of real estate, right in the centre of the downtown business section, on Lowell's best business street.

This property and its location is in a class by itself. What a chance to improve both corner lots. You can never be shut off from good light and air.

Terms of sale: $3000 in cash must be paid or secured to the auctioneer at time and place of sale, on each lot, as soon as struck off. The purchaser is to pay the taxes and all other municipal assessments. Other terms at sale.

Per Order, JOHN J. HOGAN,

Administrator with the will annexed of the Estate of Mary A. Clark.

HOLIDAY TRAVEL

According to a statement from the office of Mr. Thomas Lees, local manager for the Eastern Massachusetts street railway company, street car travel in this city over Labor Day week-end, this year, was slightly in excess of that of the corresponding period of last year. One reason for the difference is attributed to the fact that there was no parade last Labor day, and that the weather was not as pleasant.

FUNERALS

HAZARD—The funeral services of William E. Hazard were held yesterday afternoon at the home of Undertaker John A. Welbeck, 12 Essex street, Rev. John Singleton, pastor of the Lawrence Street P. MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Elsie Ferguson's latest, "The Daughter of the Sea," is being shown at the Merrimack Square Theatre today. It is a superb dramatization of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's celebrated novel of the same name, which scored a world success several years ago. The story is regarded as one of the best ever written by Mrs. Ward and was first published in Harper's magazine and later appeared in book form. The picture has scored a decided hit wherever it has been shown. An atmospheric presentation of the Scottish enthrallment "Kincaid's Kilt" is presented and is meeting with hearty approval.

MINOR EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS

FLORENCE, Italy, Sept. 3.—Minor earthquake shocks which have been felt since the disastrous tremor of Tuesday morning in the devastated zone north of this city, indicate the disturbance is subsiding, according to Father Alfani, director of the observatory here. He said today that small shocks succeeding each other, rather frequently, show the seismic phenomena are wearing themselves out.

WOMEN WAR RELICS

American Legion Members Make Application to War Department For War Relics For Lowell.

John J. Walsh, recently elected a member of the state executive committee of the American Legion at the state convention held in Springfield, has made application to the war department, bureau of war trophies, in behalf of his brother members of this post and the public in general, for the awarding of four guns, relics of the world war, and the celebrated battles of that conflict, to this city for permanent exhibition either in the new auditorium or at Monument square.

Mr. Walsh has asked for the following pieces: two six inch German rifles, one six inch howitzer and one Austrian 55 millimeter gun. The latter piece was one of the most efficient and "sure-shot" guns used during the world war, and hundreds of Lowell boys, who served overseas, would heartily favor the proposition of having one on display in this city.

There were 8000 war trophies, such as those mentioned, collected at the close of the war for distribution in the country, and 2000 have already been delivered to various organizations.

Because of the fine war record which Lowell made, the large number of men who served overseas, either in Battery F or the Y. D. division, and also because of the fact that Lowell stands second in Boston in this state in the number of decorations, including those of the French government, awarded to her soldiers.

Mr. Walsh thought it advisable for this city to be in possession of a few real relics of the war which might be kept permanently as memorials to the men who gave up their lives.

In an endeavor to hasten the granting of this application, Mr. Walsh will bring the matter before the members of the city council with the request that they, too, asked for them. At the next meeting of the local post of the American Legion Mr. Walsh will make a report on this matter and ask for suggestions from the assembly.

THE 15TH AMENDMENT

Editor Sun: Will you please inform me whether the prohibition amendment was submitted to the legislatures of the country while the democratic party was in control of congress or afterwards and oblige Yours truly,

The amendment was enacted in December, 1917, while the democrats had full control. The democratic congress went out of existence March 4, 1913.
